Man Beats Victims Over Head with Baseball Bat, Then Slashes Own Throat

ATTRIBUTED TO BOOZE

Killer Believed to Have Returned Home at Night Under Influence of Rum

(By United Press)
NEW YORK, Jan. 8.—The entire family of Thomas King, 40, father and three children, of whom the oldest was 5 years—was wiped out some time last night. Four were beaten to death with a baseball bat.

The fifth, King, died from a slashed throat. The gas had been turned on in the apartment and if crushed skulls had not brought death to any of the family asphyxiation had.

Family Slain by Father
Piecing together the story told by the shambles in which police found the house, they were convinced that King had become mad, pounded his entire family to death, turned on the gas and committed suicide by cutting his own throat.

The odor of escaping gas attracted neighbors to the apartment today. They called police. Officers forced an entrance and were all but driven out by the gas fumes. Finally making their way into the apartment, they saw the bodies strewn about, most of them on the floor, and King on a chair with a gaping cut in his throat, blood streaming down his clothing and a knife nearby.

Blood on Baseball Bat
Across the room was a baseball bat, splattered with blood and matted with hair.

One by one, the bodies were examined. The skulls were crushed, some almost beyond recognition. Furniture was knocked over and the place a scene of confusion. From what they could learn and the condition of the house and bodies, police decided that King must have come home last night, possibly under the influence of liquor, and committed the murders.

Bootleggers Are Menace to Vets

SACRAMENTO, Jan. 8.—How to defeat bootleggers is one of the problems in operating an old soldier's home, according to the annual report of the veterans' home of California at Yountville. In his report to Gov. Friend W. Richardson, covering a year's activities of the home, Russell C. Martin, colonel-commandant of the institution, says: "The bootlegger presents the same difficulty as of former years. He is always present and if our members leave the grounds he is ready to meet them. The county authorities have raided different places, but the effect is only temporary. It is the one great worry of the officers of the home."

Reconciliation of Thaws Is Blasted

PITTSBURGH, Pa., Jan. 8.—Possibility of a reconciliation between Harry K. Thaw and Evelyn Nesbit, the former now free after years in an insane asylum and the latter recovering from an attempt at suicide in Chicago, got into the gossip here today, but not very far. The rumors were aroused by reports that Thaw was leaving for Chicago. But his secretary said he had not heard anything about Harry going to Chicago and that was about all there was to it.

BLACKIE FORD JURY SELECTED AFTER 3 DAYS

MARYSVILLE, Calif., Jan. 8.—A demagogue inciting workers to fatal violence, or a seeker of justice for downtrodden folk—these were the contrasting pictures drawn of Richard "Blackie" Ford for attorneys as he went on trial for his life here today.

(By United Press)
MARYSVILLE, Calif., Jan. 8.—With a jury sworn in, testimony opened here today in the trial of Richard "Blackie" Ford for the murder of Deputy Sheriff Eugene Reardon, in the Wheatland hop field riot of 1913.

Four full court days were required for selection of the jury and 124 talesmen were examined before the 12 jurors and two alternates were passed for service.

A protracted trial is in sight, since both prosecution and defense have subpoenaed numerous witnesses. Practically all of those who testified in 1914, when Ford was sentenced to life imprisonment for killing District Attorney E. T. Maxwell in the riot, are available for the present case, and there probably will be additional witnesses.

Man Sees Doctors Saw Off His Legs

MODESTO, Calif., Jan. 8.—Sam Martine, 60, Sonora, was recovering here today from the shock of having both legs amputated without aid of any anesthetic.

Martine looked on while three surgeons cut and saved away. He was unable to take any anesthetic because of a weak heart.

Amputation became necessary when the legs were attacked by gangrene as a result of Martine's exposure during a snowstorm in the Sierra timberlands.

BANDITS GET $20,000 LOOT IN BANK RAID

Safe Blown in Amador Valley and First National Institution at Pleasanton

VIGILANTES IN PURSUIT

Outlaws Bind Cashier and Assistants and Escape With Currency, Bonds

(By United Press)
PLEASANTON, Calif., Jan. 8.—Climaxing a wild west scenario exhibition in real life, five members of a band of a dozen desperadoes robbed the Amador Valley and First National bank here today of $20,000.

Before executing the bold robbery here, the bandit gang had "shot up" the town of Alvarado and battled hastily-organized vigilantes there until forced to flee. Descriptions place the robbers here as members of the same bandit bands which robbed scores of employees and visitors in "Little Tia Juana" dance halls last night at Alvarado. They fled in two automobiles just as a posse from Niles, summoned by telephone, arrived on the scene.

Four men, unmasked but wearing false mustaches and with mud-smeared faces, entered the bank building here just after it opened and bound Cashier Charles Smallwood, his daughter, Genevieve, and Arthur Mendonca, the bank staff, after holding them up with guns. With a complete safe-blowing outfit, the bandits set to work on the vault and in a few moments had blown out the door and collected $20,000 in currency and bonds.

As the quartet ran out of the door to an automobile kept waiting by a fifth bandit, Mrs. E. P. Apperson started to enter. She defied their threat to shoot her and ran down the street to the office of Marshal Hugo Roadbush, where she spread the alarm.

The bandits sped away toward Oakland with a half mile start on a posse following them.

Girl Follows Her Lover In Suicide

CLARKSTON, Wn., Jan. 8.—Cecil Snyder, youth, shot and killed himself after writing a note saying his love for a girl was not reciprocated.

The girl, Jessie Shaw, 20, attended the youth's funeral in Spokane and then returned here and ended her life by swallowing poison. She died during the night.

She left a note saying she was "going to Cecil, who is waiting for me."

Flays Old Guard On Nye Seating

WASHINGTON, Jan. 8.—The Republican party was assailed for having voted to seat Truman H. Newberry, of Michigan, and opposing the seating of Senator-Designate Gerald P. Nye, North Dakota, in a speech by Senator Neely, West Virginia, Democrat, in the senate today. "The standpat element among the Republicans is straining at a North Dakota gnat and swallowing a Michigan camel when they refuse a seat to Nye and voted to seat Newberry," Neely said.

No Monopoly On Tobacco Found

WASHINGTON, Jan. 8.—The federal trade commission today reported to the president that its investigation of the American Tobacco company and the Imperial Tobacco company showed no illegal agreements, combinations or conspiracies between the two companies. The investigation was asked by the senate to ascertain if a tobacco monopoly existed by reasons of relations between the companies.

BILL LAWRENCE GOES TO DEATH WITH STOICISM

(By United Press)
FLORENCE, Ariz., Jan. 8.—Bill Lawrence, notorious Oklahoma badman, was hanged at the state penitentiary here today for the murder of Haze Burch, Phoenix police officer.

Lawrence faced death stoically, spending his final moments strumming a guitar in the death cell while he sang "Sweetheart," a Spanish love song. Approximately 75 persons witnessed the execution, which took place at dawn. Among the witnesses were several of the slayer's Texas and Oklahoma friends.

Before the trap was sprung, Lawrence asked that his friends kneel with him in prayer, which was done. This was said to be the only time that Bill Lawrence ever prayed.

The murderer's mother and sister, Fay, did not watch the hanging. They saw Lawrence for the last time last night, when they had a tearful farewell.

These pathetic figures appeared before the state parole board at Phoenix Wednesday and made a futile plea for Lawrence's life. Lawrence was convicted of killing Burch when he and his brother, Babe, resisted arrest. Babe was returned to Texas on another charge and was sent to prison for life.

A desperate legal battle was waged in behalf of Bill Lawrence. The case was taken through to the supreme court in Washington, D. C., which refused to review the case.

ARMY MAN TO GET PERSHING'S JOB

WASHINGTON, Jan. 8.—After three weeks of fruitless search to find a competent civilian who will accept the job as successor to Gen. John J. Pershing as chairman of the Texas-Africa plebiscitary commission in Chile, President Coolidge today narrowed his choice to a short list of army officers.

Maj. Gen. William Lassiter, commander of the Panama Canal Zone, has been recommended by General Pershing and the president is seriously considering naming him for the difficult post.

Though no official action has been taken, it is understood that the war department has already indicated that Lassiter can be spared at his present post. He was formerly assistant chief of staff under Pershing and at one time was American military attaché in London.

FRONK KEEPS STEP AHEAD OF OFFICERS

(By United Press)
PORTLAND, Ore., Jan. 8.—After a 36-hour search, police today had little further to report as to the present whereabouts of J. K. Fronk, alleged Los Angeles swindler, although they learned he was a terribly conceited and self-satisfied gentleman.

The last trace of Fronk ended with his being seen at a northbound train at Kato, Wn. He was carrying two rather heavy pieces of luggage, which might have contained the $200,000 loot with which he is supposed to have left Los Angeles.

Police learned that Fronk spent a happy day in Portland last Saturday. He met a number of old acquaintances and boastfully told of his success in Los Angeles.

"Ah, that's the place to get rich quick in," said the alleged chameleon, who was carrying a suitcase containing $200,000, while his many friends and associates there were fleeced of an undetermined amount.

Fronk displayed a $30,000 diamond "eight and one-half karats"—as evidence of his wealth.

The fugitive formerly lived in Albany and Jackson county, Oregon. Persons who knew him then and saw him here were positive in their identification, saying he made no effort to conceal his name, although at the Ramapo hotel he signed an assumed name.

Who an 18-year-old boy was who accompanied Fronk has not been explained by police.

Fraternal Orders Will Be Merged

VESSEL RAMS AND SINKS BIG BRIDGE SPAN

(By United Press)
OAKLAND, Jan. 8.—Three men were under treatment for injuries and traffic between Oakland and Alameda was being diverted to another bridge today as result of the freight steamer Lancaster ramming and sinking the central span of the Webster street bridge.

The span had been opened to permit passage of the Lancaster, which had just left the Encinal terminal of Alameda with a full cargo for Tacoma, Wn.

Suddenly the vessel veered and struck the 300-foot span with such force that it was knocked into the estuary from its piers. Dan Sullivan, bridge tender, and Harold Clausen and Alfred Lancaster, students, were thrown into the water, but were rescued. Clausen received a broken arm.

Damage to the bridge is estimated at $100,000 and it will require three months, it is believed, to repair the span. Meanwhile traffic is going two miles around to the High street bridge.

Shepherd's Will Fight Near Close

CHICAGO, Jan. 8.—Arguments will be completed here today and a decision is expected before night in the effort of William D. Shepherd to secure a circuit court order for probate of the will of his millionaire wife, Billy McClinton.

It is the third round of Shepherd's fight for the McClinton fortune. First he was found innocent of causing Billy's death. Then the probate court refused to probate the will because of opposition from Isabelle Pope, Billy's fiancée, and eight cousins of McClinton.

Smallpox Plague Sweeping Tampa

TAMPA, Fla., Jan. 8.—Wholesale vaccinations were under way here today, following the announcement by Dr. E. C. SHORTBRIDGE GETS RAP FROM DAWES

WASHINGTON, Jan. 8.—Vice President Dawes, campaigner for more stringent senate rules, reproved Senator Shortridge, Republican, California, for failure to observe one of the present rules during the Nye debate today.

"The senator (Shortridge) must address the chair when he desires to speak," Dawes interrupted, between a colloquy between Shortridge and Senator Neely, Democrat, West Virginia.

When Shortridge spoke out of turn, Dawes arose and shouted: "Doesn't the senator know the rules of the senate?"

Shortridge explained that he thought it unnecessary.

"You want to address the chair in future," Dawes said. "Then I will sit down," said Shortridge.

S. F. BANKER BUYS VERNON BALL CLUB

LOS ANGELES, Jan. 8.—The Vernon club of the Pacific Coast Baseball league became the property of Herbert Fleishacker, San Francisco banker, late today.

Agents for Fleishacker have been here for two days inspecting securities and franchise rights of the team, and it was learned through authoritative and reliable sources that the deal will be officially announced at tomorrow's meeting of the Pacific Coast league.

Directors of the league will be asked to approve the transfer of the Tigers to San Francisco, and the importation of the Salt Lake club to Los Angeles to provide continuous ball at Wrigley Field.

J. Cal Ewing, president of the Oakland club, is to receive $140,000 for giving his consent to the deal, it was understood.

SARGENT PUT ON STAND IN 'TRUST' QUIZ

Cabinet Member Testifies He Knows Little Concerning Aluminum Probe

QUESTIONED BY WALSH

Head of Justice Department Says He Left Case In Hands of Assistant

(By United Press)
WASHINGTON, D. C., Jan. 8.—Attorney General John G. Sargent told the Walsh committee today that he did not know much about the investigation of the department of justice into the aluminum "trust" controlled by Secretary of the Treasury Mellon.

The Vermontor, testifying in the inquiry of the senate judiciary committee, said he learned of the case from newspapers after taking office and left the matter to his assistant, William G. Donovan.

Sargent was called as first witness before the committee, which has been charged with ascertaining whether he has been diligent in investigating the Aluminum Company of America.

His initial appearance followed the recent inquiry directed against former Attorney General Harry Daugherty and Harlan Stone, both of whom were repeatedly called before senate committees to explain administration of their department.

Questioned by Walsh
Sargent was closely questioned by Senator Thomas J. Walsh, who two years ago disclosed the Teapot Dome scandals, as to the time he first heard of the aluminum case. "I don't know," Sargent answered.

"Wasn't it about six months after you took office?" "Well, it may have been about that. I don't remember."

"When did you first hear that Attorney General Stone, your predecessor, had written a letter holding that the Aluminum Company of America was violating the anti-trust law?" Walsh asked.

"A newspaperman mentioned it to me in a regular bi-weekly conference."

"Wasn't that about October 15?" "It may have been."

Sargent said he had entire confidence in Assistant Attorney General Donovan.

"I am confident he is doing what is right."

The big Vermontor fumbled his pipe and a box of matches as he answered questions. He wore a flaming red tie and grey tweed business suit. His iron grey hair was combed down over his eyes.

Borah Quizzes Secretary
Senator Borah, Idaho, Republican, asked if it was Sargent's policy not to work in co-ordination with other departments.

"We attempt to ascertain first whether the charges of the departments are true," Sargent said. "We attempt to verify the evidence."

24 APPLICANTS SCHEDULED FOR CITIZEN EXAMS

The last January naturalization class has been scheduled for January 18, according to notices being mailed today by County Clerk J. M. Backs to applicants for citizenship papers.

At the request of the U. S. department of naturalization, the superior court of Orange county has changed its dates for naturalization classes. Backs stated. Abandoning the previous schedule of dates, the third Monday in January and the third Monday in July, the court henceforth will conduct its naturalization classes on the third Monday of June and the third Monday of December each year. The change will be made after the next class is examined.

Twenty-four applicants are scheduled to take the examinations January 18, 11 of them appearing for the second time while 13 are making their first attempt. Of the two dozen applicants, nearly half are subjects of Great Britain, the total being 11. Germany supplies 2, Greece 3, Hungary 2 and Serbia, Czechoslovakia, Austria, Norway, France and Italy, 1 each.

The applicants who are to receive their second examinations are:

Nick Laerto, Anaheim (Italy); Josephine Queyrel, Placentia (France); Gligor M. Andrijasevich, Orange (Serbia), known as George M. Andrich; George Tomlinson, Santa Ana (England); Herman Thiede, Orange (Germany); Floy Theodore, Anaheim (Greece); Minnie Theodore, Anaheim (Greece); Aristodemos Batistatos, Anaheim (Greece); Edward Mirkovic, Balboa (Austria); Louis Singer, Santa Ana (Hungary).

Those scheduled to take the examinations for the first time are: Louise Henshaw, Santa Ana (England); Francis H. Miller, Anaheim (England); Ida P. Edwards (Fullerton) (England); Janos Smolcz, Newport Beach (Hungary); Thomas E. Arrowsmith, Orange (England); Kurt M. V. F. Perrin, Santa Ana (Germany); William J. Gould, Santa Ana (England); Vivian L. Ehman, Fullerton (England); Charles Covern, Laguna Beach (England); Holm Holmson, Anaheim (Norway); Stanley L. Marlow, Newport Beach (England); Philip R. Wood, Santa Ana (England); Theodore A. Meyer, Anaheim (England).

Fails In Move To Have Court Eject Tenant

Teresa R. O'Connell, milliner, 413 North Sycamore street, failed in her attempt to eject Margaret J. Reid, her tenant under a sub-lease, when Justice K. E. Morrison today dismissed her ejection and damage suit for lack of jurisdiction.

Mrs. O'Connell and several of her sales ladies told Justice Morrison, at the hearing yesterday, how Mrs. Reid, who conducts a corset shop in the millinery store, had interfered with sales to the millinery customers and had "steered" customers away from the millinery department, although the millinery department had always sent customers to Mrs. Reid whenever possible.

Mrs. O'Connell gave Mrs. Reid notice to vacate, but the notice was ignored, it was said. She sued to eject the tenant and asked judgment for $175 damages. Attorney W. F. Menton represented her.

Attorney Fred Forgy appeared for Mrs. Reid, whose side of the story was not told in court, inasmuch as Forgy objected to the hearing of evidence in the case, claiming that the court had no jurisdiction. His motion for dismissal on that ground was taken under advisement until today, then granted.

The court held that the value of the lease involved was greater than the amount over which justice courts are given jurisdiction.

JURY DECLARES MAN GUILTY ON BURGLAR COUNT

Making no attempt to present a defense, Frank LaValle, of Fullerton, was found guilty of a burglary charge late yesterday by a jury in Superior Judge Z. B. West's court.

LaValle's failure to take the stand in his own defense, or to present testimony of any sort, caused a surprise in view of his attitude at the preliminary hearing some weeks ago when he asserted that a girl had lured him into the house which he was charged with entering by force.

The alleged burglary took place at 447 East Amerige avenue, Fullerton, where Miss Laura Collins, Los Angeles girl, was staying. She was alone at the time LaValle entered the house.

The girl told her story to the jury yesterday, saying that her attention had been attracted by a noise during the night and she investigated, finding a burglar, who was frightened away, she said by her presence.

LaValle's attorney, B. E. Tarver, did not cross-examine Miss Collins along the line expected by LaValle's previous declarations that the girl had noticed him passing by the house and had called him inside.

Papers that were dropped from LaValle's coat while he was in the house led to his arrest.

The jury returned its verdict of guilty after a short deliberation. Judge West fixed Monday, at 9:30 a. m., as the time for passing sentence on LaValle.

The longest non-stop railroad run in England is 225 miles, and requires 247 minutes to complete.

SPEEDERS' DAY IS OBSERVED IN JUSTICE COURT

Youth was "served" in the justice court of Kenneth Morrison today, when divers and sundry alleged offenders of the state motor vehicle laws appeared for judgment.

Judge Morrison certified four young men, all of them under 18 years old, to the juvenile department for action by Juvenile Officer LeRoy Warren.

Warren immediately cancelled their drivers' licenses and gave warning that hereafter young men who appear before him charged with speeding will not receive such lenient treatment as has been the practice in the past.

"I am going to begin to use the county juvenile home and the county jail in the treatment of such cases," Warren said. "It is bad enough to pile a number of young folks into a small car and break the speed limit, but when the offense takes place near midnight on the way back from a dance at Balboa it is a different matter, indeed."

Warren took license cards away from H. L. Bear, 1406 East First street; George Preble, 416 West Pine street; Ray Craig, 1022 West Second street, and Oscar Bow, 315 West Walnut street.

One man was sentenced to serve five days in the county jail for speeding by Morrison today. G. H. Bennett, who said he was a Walnut Park merchant, said he would check in at the jail Saturday evening.

Miss E. M. Swinger, 100 Hildago avenue, Culver City, paid $15 on a charge of speeding. Mrs. R. P. Husted, Kendrick apartments, Hollywood, left $15 with Morrison. Ione E. Yocum, 2222 Thirty-second street San Diego, was $20 poorer today through Morrison's penalty.

Among those who appeared before Morrison today on speed charges, with the amount of their fines, were:

Albert Rudling, 815 Columbia avenue, Los Angeles, $25; Orville McMannas, 1514 South Main street, Santa Ana, $10; Joe Brown, 2108 South Union street, Los Angeles, $15; Howard L. Terry, 1348 Mantel avenue, Los Angeles, $10; J. H. Havens, Huntington Beach, $10; G. H. Bennett, 157 Broadway avenue, Walnut Park, five days in county jail; L. L. Carson, Tustin, $15; W. H. Teague, 1646 Flanders street, Long Beach, $10; G. G. Priddy, Anaheim, $10; C. K. Helmbeck, 624 Kohlbert street, Los Angeles, $10; James C. Rug Burglar At Work In Anaheim

Orange county's "rug burglar" operated in the home of C. E. Moore, who said he resided on East street, north of North street, Anaheim, according to a report on file today at the sheriff's office. Moore said that his house was robbed between 3 and 7 p. m., January 5, the following articles being removed: vacuum cleaner, one radio set, man's suit, one rug, 9 by 12 feet, one rug, 8 1/2 by 10 1/2 feet. Deputy Sheriff Dan Adams investigated for the sheriff's office.

Only five per cent of the herding caught in England is consumed at home. The remainder goes to export trade.

The WELL-DRESSED MAN
By BEAUNASH
Correct Clothes To Meet The Obligation Of Every Occasion

top. Correct dress must be grounded in common sense, which makes the color and cut of one's clothes an affair of personal preference, not of fixed formula that some men declare all men must abide by. Americans will never subscribe to the theory that fashion decrees we should look as alike as many heads threaded upon a single string.

A case in point is right under your nose—handkerchiefs. It has been said, or implied, that everybody who is "anybody" is going in for brilliant colors and patterns in handkerchiefs for the breast pocket and that only these are correct. Piffle! There are thousands of well-turned-out men who prefer the simple white linen handkerchief and who never take up colors. They do not like them, that's all, and that's settled as far as they are concerned.

Contrariwise, there are thousands of other men with judgment just as sound, who are very partial to vivid designs and who go the limit of color and luxury for breast pocket adornment. The nub of the question is not whether one uses bold color or quiet color, but how well one uses it. Neither the one nor the other is necessarily good taste. That lies wholly in the effect gained, whether favorable or unfavorable.

The novel treatments in handkerchiefs, sketched here, are only three out of, literally hundreds of patterns and colors procurable in linens, silks and silk-and-linens from the heaviest cloths to the sheerest crepes. It is idle to describe these designs, as pictures speak louder than words, though, of course, the resplendent colors cannot be reproduced. Care must always be taken that one's handkerchief does not hiss and spit at one's cravat. In other words, blend your colors.

Local Briefs

W. A. Griffin, advertising manager of the J. B. Ransom Organization of Los Angeles, was here yesterday making plans for the opening of a local office for Montebello Park, the new town which his company is marketing.

Dr. J. I. Clark, who has been seriously sick at his home, 611 Bush street, with an infection of the face, was reported much better today. Dr. Clark's illness was brought about, it is believed, by an infected tooth, the trouble developing New Year's day. Dr. Clark is being attended by Dr. G. M. Tralle, Santa Ana specialist.

The first class in a series on the subject of real estate law under the auspices of the Santa Ana Realty board will be held tonight at Ketter's cafe, according to Harry Bladen, who said that Prof. Marston of the extension division of the University of Southern California would act as lecturer. Twelve classes are to be held, Bladen added, one each Friday night, until the course is complete.

Glenn L. Martin, aeroplane manufacturer of Cleveland, O., and his mother, who have been visiting in Santa Ana, started on their return to Cleveland, by way of Seattle, Wednesday evening. While here Martin spent two days at San Diego where, at the naval station, a number of the planes built by him are in operation.

The young man who danced the Charleston at the chamber of commerce meeting Tuesday night was Chester Gross of 1880 West Seventeenth street, and not Ernest Gross, of Anaheim, as reported. The young man asked that his name be put in the paper correctly.

Arthur Munselle, Dr. Roy Horton, Dr. M. H. Duncan, J. F. Kaufman, all of Santa Ana, and Mr. Munselle's father and brother, of Pomona, have returned to their homes following a five-day trip to Goldfield, Nev., via Death Valley. They inspected mining property in which they are interested.

Santa Ana Lodge, No. 241, F. & A. M., will be hosts to the De Molay Chapter of Santa Ana and the De Molay Chapter of Los Angeles who desire to witness the De Molay degree exemplified in Masonic Temple Friday, Jan. 8th, at 8 p. m. Entertainment features preceding the degree. Refreshments later.

OFF BLOOM IN CITRUS GROVES UNEXPLAINABLE

The off bloom, which has appeared in a large number of Valencia groves, particularly in the El Modena neighborhood, cannot be attributed to any known cause, in the opinion of citrus experts interviewed today.

Any severe shock is likely to produce blooms out of season, it was said. This shock may have been provided by an absence of sufficient water or proper cultivation, in the opinion of some.

It was not considered that the crop resulting from the off-bloom would be sufficient to warrant harvesting. Generally such fruit, it was said, is of poor quality and very rough. If the crop does mature, nine or ten waters will be required before the "off" fruit is ripe, one grower said.

The off bloom may have the effect of cutting down slightly the bloom and crop of the trees so effected next year, in the opinion of some.

Many trees in the county, with fruit half matured, are said to have suddenly burst into bloom.

PROJECT NEW LIGHT SYSTEM IN SANTA ANA

A new ornamental lighting system, extending east on Fourth to the city limits and including Bush, Spurgeon and French streets, from First street to Sixth street, is projected, with every indication that the plan will be carried out. It was announced today by James Metzgar, secretary of the East Santa Ana Improvement association, following a meeting of the association, held last night in the city hall.

A committee, consisting of George R. Wells, chairman; C. A. Gustlin, John Kinslow and A. W. Gerrard, is working on the project and will have a report in the near future, Metzgar declared.

A resolution stating the needs for a new Pacific Electric depot in Santa Ana and urging the P. E. company to build such a structure, was adopted by the association members. The members voted to submit the same resolution to the realty board and the various service clubs, with the suggestion that they adopt it.

It was announced at last night's session that Pacific Electric officials are inclined to favor the erection of a new depot in Santa Ana.

Designed to provide free parking facilities for shoppers, the vacant lot at the northeast corner of Second and Spurgeon streets has been secured and cleared. It was announced at the meeting. The lot is 100 by 125 feet.

It also was announced that the Santa Fe officials have promised to move the company's water tank, near the local station, to a point further south, in order that Fourth street traffic will not be held up while south bound locomotives are taking water.

Police News

W. P. Boardman was in the county jail today on a charge of larceny in connection with the alleged theft of a high priced sport model automobile from the Hall Motors company. Boardman, said to have been discharged from the navy at San Diego only a few weeks ago, was arrested yesterday afternoon at San Juan Capistrano by Deputy Sheriff Ray Wallace.

Boardman was arrested on a complaint signed by B. G. Akerman, manager of the motors company. The ex-sailor is accused of larceny.

S. R. Douglas was taken off a stage in-bound from San Diego yesterday at the request of San Diego officers who wired Sheriff Sam Jernigan that they held a warrant for his arrest, charging a felony. Douglas was arrested by Chief Criminal Deputy Ed McClellan and Deputy Sheriff Don Moxley. He was lodged in the county jail.

John H. Rose, 37, oil worker, arrested by Fullerton officers in connection with his alleged elopement with a young girl, was brought to the county jail last night by Deputy Sheriffs Dan Adams and Clyde Flowers. Rose was arrested by Fullerton officers in San Bernardino.

PETITIONS BEING CHECKED BY CLERK

Initiative petitions, advocating two measures slated for submission to the voters of California at elections this year, were being checked today at the office of County Clerk J. M. Backs.

One is the "firemen's pensions" petition, the other being the petition to legalize horse racing in California. Backs expects to have the petitions ready for mailing to the secretary of state early next week.

That the racing measure may not be placed on the ballot was indicated today when Backs received a communication from the California Horse Breeders' association, advising him that the measure had been withdrawn.

Y. CONFERENCE REPORTS GIVEN BY DELEGATES

"America today is the greatest obstacle in the path of peace."

"Positive action is what the world demands of its youth. This is a world steeped in materialism, war and racial hatreds that must be overcome by reactionary youth."

These were high lights brought out in the reports of the Santa Ana junior college delegates, who attended the 10-day Pacific Southwest Y. M. C. A. conference last week in Asilomar, during a dinner meeting of the Campus "Y" members last night.

The seven students who attended from Santa Ana, took up phases of the problems discussed at the conference. Subjects ranging from campus questions to international issues were touched upon. Besides the students of the campus "Y," Principal D. K. Hammond, Dean J. Russell Bruff, T. H. Glenn and McKee Fisk heard the reports.

Interspersed through the students' talks were humorous accounts of upturned beds, midnight episodes and experiences of camp life.

Harry Lewis, Santa Ana business man, was at the Asilomar conference and he told the students, at last night's dinner, that he particularly was impressed by the seriousness with which the delegates sought to find out how they could remedy conditions.

Reports were given by Robert O'Brien, Allen Goddard, Don Purvis, Henrik Van Rensselaer, Alfred Ault and George Broome.

The students restated views expressed by such speakers as Thomas Graham, Charles Hursey, J. Stitt Wilson and Kirby Page. It was Kirby Page who charged America of preventing the advance of peace.

Some of the most vital college problems in social life and activities participation were considered. The failings of many college students was attributed to "passing the buck," or lack of responsibility.

Court Notes

Gets Judgment Award
Superior Judge Z. B. West today awarded Thomas Eadington judgment for $5650.08 against Harvey Garber, brick manufacturer. Eadington's suit was based on two notes, the judgment including interest and attorney's fees in addition to the principal amounts. Attorney Carl M. Helm represented Eadington, with Attorney A. E. Koepsel appearing for Garber.

Probation is Granted
Eula Gish, of Orange, was granted probation when he appeared today before Superior Judge Z. B. West for sentence on a charge of driving an automobile while under the influence of intoxicating liquor.

Gish was sentenced to a year in the county jail, but his sentence was suspended by the court for a period of three years, during which time he will be placed on his good behavior. Gish and two companions figured in a wild escapade at the time of their arrest. Orange officers being unable to catch them until they wrecked their car.

Trial Date Set
The trial of D. A. Watson, charged with passing a worthless check, today was set for February 24 by Superior Judge Z. B. West, when Watson pleaded not guilty. Watson is accused of issuing a $4 bogus check to Mrs. M. E. Millings, of Orange, in October, 1923.

Information is Filed
An information, charging Bert M. Tibbet Jr., with failure to support his minor child, was filed today in Superior Judge Z. B. West's court. Tibbet is scheduled to enter his plea to the charge next Friday at 9:30 a.m.

Allowed Week To Answer
Arraignment of Pete Rosenquist, charged with robbery, was held today before Superior Judge Z. B. West, who allowed Rosenquist a week in which to answer to the charge. The defendant is accused of committing a holdup in Fullerton, where he is alleged to have robbed A. R. Lupton of $13 on December 27.

Suit on Note
Judgment for $1250, alleged to be due on a note, was asked today in a superior court suit filed by Mrs. Christina S. Landell against Aaron Buchheim. The litigants are both residents of San Juan Capistrano. Attorneys Scarborough, Forry and Reinhart, of Santa Ana, represent Mrs. Landell in the case.

Would Foreclose Mortgage
Foreclosure of a $1500 mortgage against property in Santa Ana was asked today in a suit filed by Mary I. Rogers, of Santa Ana, against Mr. and Mrs. John T. Blakeney and other defendants. Attorney T. T. Clark is counsel for the plaintiff.

Trial of an action brought by A. V. Van Tuyle against Mrs. Minnie T. Smith, to foreclose a contract of purchase, involving property in Brea, has been continued by Superior Judge E. J. Marks to February 15 after a partial hearing of the case.

Van Tuyle, who sold the property to Mrs. Smith, seeks to foreclose her equity and quiet title, claiming that she is in arrears with payments on the contract. In her answer, Mrs. Smith claims that the property was misrepresented to her, in that some of the buildings are located partly off the property. She claims to have paid $2050 of a $5000 purchase price, and demands that the money be returned to her and the contract cancelled.

Attorney F. H. Jacobs, of Brea, represents Van Tuyle. Attorney J. R. Conkey, of Fullerton, is counsel for Mrs. Smith.

PATHOS MARKS MARRIAGE OF MISS MACKAY

NEW YORK, Jan. 8.—The greatest recent romance of high society—the marriage of Irving Berlin and Ellin Mackay—seemed dominated today by its tragic phases.

While two days ago New York was laughing over the runaway marriage of the daughter of Clarence H. Mackay and the man who was once just Izzy Baline of "Niger Mike's" east side cafe, the city stopped and wondered at the developments of the last 24 hours.

First sign that all was not as joyous as wedding bells are expected to be came with the Berlin's return to New York, the bride almost in tears.

Then came Consuelo Vanderbilt's wedding yesterday—one of the year's greatest social events—and Mrs. Berlin was absent, although the bride was her friend and their granddaughters were partners in the days when fortunes were being made in the gold mines of the west.

Finally was the appearance of Clarence Mackay, Mrs. Berlin's millionaire father, at the Vanderbilt wedding. He had given his daughter not a thing to mark her wedding, but to the Vanderbilt bride he presented a beautiful diamond bracelet.

While Consuelo was being married to E. T. Smith in a setting of almost unequalled splendor, Mrs. Berlin was trying to buy dresses from a modiste in the Berlin apartments and denying herself to all callers.

New York was beginning to see the pathos in the contrasting marriages of the two girls whose family history has run much the same, pathos which applies equally to Mrs. Berlin and to her father.

While the Berlin's refused to talk in any way, from their friends it was learned that last night a select group dined with them in their apartment, and plans for a dinner to about 60 friends of Mrs. Berlin at Atlantic City tonight have been abandoned.

New York consumes 1,800,000,000 eggs a year.

Jail Fugitive Of Two Score Years

ATLANTA, Ga., Jan. 8.—Forty-four years of freedom, while under a life sentence in the penitentiary for murder has ended for "Uncle" Asa Patterson. He now is serving a sentence which for 44 years he has evaded.

"Uncle" Asa was sentenced in the superior court of Pickens county, Ga., in 1881, but escaped and since has lived in the mountains of East Tennessee and North Carolina.

Homesickness at Christmas for the old homestead and his son led him to return. Enroute home Christmas eve, the automobile in which the old man was riding was halted by the prohibition officers. Believing he was recognized, "Uncle" Asa revealed his identity.

Sunday Tells His Modernism Views

BINGHAMTON, N. Y., Jan. 8.—Billy Sunday, arriving here for a seven weeks' evangelistic campaign, unleashed a volume of fiery oratory. With the explanation that, "if the English language gets in my way, something's going to happen to it," the evangelist expounded in caustic terms his opinions of modernism, Pekinese dogs and the liquor traffic.

Some of the "Sundayisms" follow:

"When a modernist prays, God's got his finger in his ear."

"A woman must love something, but I don't call a Pekinese dog anything."

"I'm going to live long enough to see America so dry that we'll have to prime a man before he can spit."

Whist Club Members Are Entertained At Beach Home

One of yesterday's happy events was the meeting of the Thursday Afternoon club, whose members shared the hospitality of Mrs. Frank Naylor's cozy home at East Newport.

Whist was introduced soon after the arrival of the guests, and when scores were totaled, Mrs. R. O. Stearns was found to have made high score. She was presented with a handsome casserole while second prize of an attractive vase was bestowed on Miss Mildred McNeill. Third, of a dresser scarf on Mrs. E. E. Richardson and consolation presented Mrs. Owens.

Card tables were arranged with attractive linens for the serving of refreshments, each table being centered with a bowl of red cosmos, adding to the enjoyment of the tea menu. Mrs. Naylor was assisted in hostess duties by Mrs. A. A. Wood.

Club members assembled for the affair included the hostess, Mrs. Naylor, Mesdames A. J. Kelly, A. A. Wood, O. V. Noble, I. A. Mechem, L. L. Smith, Ida King and Miss Mildred McNeill while guests entertained were Mrs. E. E. Richardson, Mrs. R. O. Stearns, Mrs. Nell D. Winslow, Mrs. Owens and Mrs. A. Rowe of Whittier.

Pretty Party of Bridge Club Members

Miss Evelyn Hurd of 1118 South Ross street entertained the members of her bridge club very charmingly at her home last Tuesday evening. Following the pleasant hours spent with their favorite game, the hostess served her guests with delectable refreshments.

Those enjoying the pleasant evening included the Misses Luella Graham, Louise Shugart, Verne Cheled, Mabel Merrick, Marcia Babbitt, Pauline Lane and Pearl Bell. Mesdames Drake, A. Ross and Catherine Adams.

SANTA ANA SCHOOL DEBATE TEAM WINS

In a practice debate at the Santa Ana polytechnic high school yesterday afternoon, the Poly debaters won a 2 to 1 victory over Fullerton. The question was "Resolved: That Capital Punishment Should Be Abolished in the State of California."

The affirmative side was upheld for Santa Ana by Lillian Odisho and Mydas Capps.

The victory makes the third Santa Ana has won this year, with one defeat to mar the record. Victories have been recorded against Compton, Orange and Fullerton. Anaheim scored the only victory over Santa Ana.

Strong constructive arguments decided the debate in favor of the Santa Ana students. The teams exhibited good debating ability, according to the judges, who were Miss Elizabeth Vanzer, Miss Elizabeth Wyant and L. L. Beeman.

American Legion County Council To Name Chiefs

Election of officers for the year will be the important item of business for attention of delegates to the Orange County Council, American Legion meeting to be held tonight in American Legion hall, Anaheim, at 7 o'clock, it was announced today by E. Schaniel, secretary of Santa Ana Post, No. 131, American Legion.

The session tonight will be a joint meeting of the old and the new delegates, new representatives to the council having been elected recently by all the posts in the county.

L. W. Blodgett, of Huntington Beach, has served the council during the last year as president. Nominations for new officers will be made from the floor tonight.

Mrs. Sanborn Is New President of Pythian Sisters

The Pythian Sisters held an enjoyable meeting Tuesday afternoon in the home of Mrs. Emma Kellogg, Roe drive, with 20 members present.

New officers were elected as follows: President, Mrs. Dora Sanborn; secretary, Mrs. Abbie Isherwood; treasurer, Mrs. Alice Bartlett.

It was announced that the sum of $86 was made at the bazaar held last week, and plans were formulated for the coming year's work.

Following the business meeting, apple pie with whipped cream and coffee were served by the hostess. The following members were present:

Mesdames Florence Ford, Shidler, Alice Bartlett, H. A. Smith, Robert E. Smith, Emma Cochems, Gibson, Abbie Isherwood, Dora Sanborn, Link, Frisby, Jamison, Frances Gardner and Miss Link and Mrs. Plumb, a visitor here from Seattle, Wn.

Date for Raison Event Selected

FRESNO, Jan. 8.—Fresno will hold its Raisin Day observance on April 15, two weeks ahead of the usual time, as the only date available for the national auto races, it was announced here. The speedway classic is an annual attraction of Raisin day.

January Gathering of Community Players At The Barn

With the next production of the Community Players' theatrical season only a brief month away, last night's meeting of the Players' at the Barn, assumed an unusual degree of interest, as details of the ticket sale for "The Dover Road," forthcoming attraction, were discussed.

Several matters of importance arose for settlement as well, among them being the change in by-laws whereby the tenure of office will be from June to June rather than from January to January as has been the case in the past. This was thought advisable that there might be no change in the midst of the producing year.

It was with much regret that President Robert R. Shafer read the resignation of Mrs. Maurice Enderle as secretary, after a term of office in which she has proven a master of the art of keeping the minutes of every meeting. Mrs. Jack Bascom was named as her successor. Burr Shafer's report as financial secretary, showed the association's affairs to be in flourishing condition with every indication that a successful season was already under way.

Since "The Dover Road" will be given early in February, direction of Miss Eloise Sterling, it was decided to advance the regular meeting date at The Barn, one week, therefore the next meeting will be Thursday, January 28, when Mr. and Mrs. Horace B. Van Dien will have charge of both stage and kitchen arrangements.

Following the business meeting, announcement of last night's entertainment program was made by Robert Northcross, who with Mrs. Northcross, had charge of the evening. He announced two one-act plays, the first, a nameless one with the prize of one free guest ticket to the Player suggesting the most suitable name, and the second, Lord Dunsany's amusing sketch, "The Lost Hat."

Mr. and Mrs. Northcross were hampered by the smallness of their committee, many members having dropped out since it was first named, but the few remaining members gave a most pleasant evening's entertainment. Taking part in the first play were Miss Edith Cornell, Eleanor Young Elliott, Robert Northcross and Carson Smith. The play was a dramatic bit, based on a quadrangle rather than the often-used triangle. The four players read their parts, interpolating enough of the action to make it consistent and convincing.

Among names suggested for the play, were "Who Laughs Last," "Havoc," and "The Woman Who Laughed," the latter name, suggested by Miss Eloise Sterling, the Players' new director, being considered the most suitable.

"The Lost Hat" as the second offering, was in direct contrast and its amusing lines kept the audience in ripples of laughter. The lead was read by Burr Shafer with Robert Northcross enacting the part of the Laborer, Robert G. Horn as the Clerk; Carson Smith as the Poet and Charles C. Brisco as the Policeman. The stage was converted into a street scene and the action was given as lines were read. Miss Cornell and Miss Frances Beeson aided by a musical background at certain intervals during the action. Miss Cornell also gave of her talents in a song group between the two plays, with Miss Ruth Armstrong as her accompanist. The first number was the delightful "Come to the Fair" and was followed by Branscombe's "The Morning Wind," given most charmingly by the talented singer.

With the conclusion of the program, the entertainers took their places in the kitchen, as aides to Mrs. Northcross who had assumed the responsibility of coffee making. But that her abilities were not confined to arts of the kitchen alone, was shown by the clever lines she read in offering the added treat of delicious little cakes as an accompaniment to the coffee and the quantities of excellent sandwiches which Players added to the evening's refreshments as usual. The cakes were all made by Mrs. Northcross and were a surprise to other members of the committee as well as the Players in general. According to their maker's fanciful rhymes they were offered in lieu of laurels, to the capable Players.

During the friendly social hour, the Players recalled other pleasant affairs of recent date held in The Barn. These included the party staged for Mr. and Mrs. Fred H. Taylor in honor of their twenty-first wedding anniversary. It was a most happy affair with refreshments, informal talks and other features Mr. and Mrs. Taylor were presented with a handsome silver tray by the Players, in honor of the event, and with a beautiful cake baked by Mrs. G. S. Richardson, and bearing a greeting in pink lettering.

Parent-Teachers

Eleven delegates to the district Parent-Teacher association convention, to be held in Garden Grove Saturday, were elected at the regular monthly meeting of the high school Parent-Teacher association, held at the Y hut, Thursday.

The gathering was preceded by a meeting of the executive board. Mrs. G. H. Goodale, of Anaheim, addressed the members on the subject, "What P.-T. A. Can Do." The meeting was largely attended. Tea was served.

Mrs. Fred Medberry, chairman of the Roosevelt Parent-Teacher association's program committee, has, with the aid of Mrs. Roy Horton and Mrs. E. E. Boething, association president, planned programs for the next few months that promise to be exceedingly interesting. Mrs. Medberry has chosen the music of other nations as subjects for talks by Santa Ana artists, who are also to play a few selections of the representative music of the country of which they speak.

At the regular meeting of the association, Tuesday afternoon, in the kindergarten room of the Roosevelt school, D. C. Clamont, well known Santa Ana musician and band leader, gave on the trombone, two examples of music as conceived by Italian composition, "Italian Love Song" and "The Serenade," one of the most beautiful of Mr. Clamont's compositions. He was accompanied by Miss Ruth Armstrong at the piano. Mr. Clamont told in a most interesting way the reasons he had become an American citizen and some of the amusing incidents that occurred before he had mastered the language and learned the customs of his adopted country.

The program was opened by a salute to the flag, led by Shelley Horton, fourth grade boy. Several songs including "Smiles," were sung in unison by parents and teachers. After a discussion that centered about music in the home, tea and wafers were served.

Men's Vocal Club To Be Organized

Is it a possibility that Santa Ana will have a men's musical organization similar to the famous Ellis club of Los Angeles? That is the dream held by a little group now forming a Men's Vocal club, to be directed by George Leonard Howes, who was such acclaim recently for his direction of "Queen Esther" as a holiday offering at Spurgeon Memorial church.

Arrangements have been made with Mr. Howes, to give a course of instruction and organize the club, with the first meeting to be held tonight at 7:30 o'clock at the Y. M. C. A. Men who sing and who wish to sing better, are urged to register at tonight's meeting, as the organization will be effected at once, and then will be closed for the next ten weeks, while the first course of training is being taken.

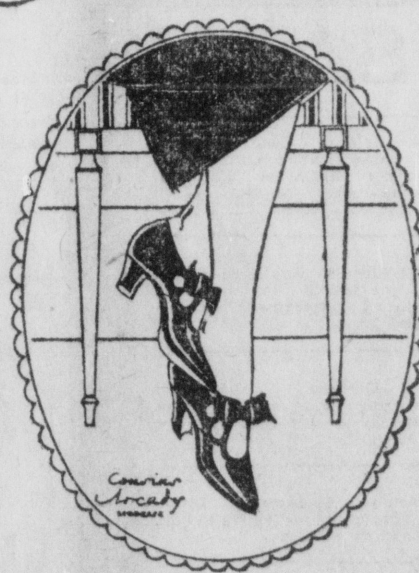

As a vocal teacher in Detroit, Mich., Mr. Howes first gained his fame, and was connected with the Detroit Conservatory of Music. He directed many large musical events in the east before coming to the coast where he has had equally pronounced success. One of his most signal successes was the production of "Queen Esther" in the Philharmonic auditorium in Los Angeles, under the auspices of the P.-T. A. of that city. The performance was highly lauded by L. E. Behymer, famous impresario of Los Angeles. Mr. Howes has been staying at St. Ann's Inn for the past two months and may decide to make Santa Ana his permanent home.

An Essex couple recently made their own home, the bridegroom even made the furniture.

Young People Motor To San Diego for Their Wedding

Cozily established in an attractive home at 607 East Pine street, Mr. and Mrs. Earl M. Neer are receiving the congratulations of a host of friends upon their marriage, an event of Monday, January 4, at San Diego.

Mrs. Neer was formerly Mrs. Abigail Adams Day, a well-known member of the registered nurses of the community, and has made her home in Santa Ana for the past two years or more, having come here from her former home in Worcester, Mass., where she took her hospital training, and where her father, Frank J. Adams still resides.

Mr. Neer is the son of Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Neer of Lexington, Mo. and has lived in Santa Ana for a number of years, making his home with his sister, Mrs. John Caulfield, 215 Hickory street.

The young people maintained a decided secrecy in their wedding plans, driving to San Diego for the ceremony. Mrs. Day chose a lovely frock of satin in pansy shades with smart little hat to harmonize. Immediately after the ceremony the happy pair returned to Santa Ana, going at once to their own home, all in readiness for them.

Officers of the United Daughters of the Confederacy will hold a business meeting next Monday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock at the home of Mrs. Laveria Mayfield on French street.

The second household economics section of Ebell will meet at the clubhouse Wednesday, January 13, for a 1 o'clock luncheon. Hostesses will be Mrs. L. A. Chenoweth, Mrs. H. J. Selway and Mrs. W. L. Deimling. A speaker provided by Horton Furniture company will speak on "Oriental Rugs," and at roll call every member is to tell something about oriental rugs. Those unable to be present are requested to call Mrs. Chenoweth at 1230.

Distinguished Iowans Are Dinner Guests In Boden Home

Complimenting their old friends of Osceola, Iowa, Senator and Mrs. L. E. Crist, and also their houseguests, Mr. and Mrs. John Ridgeway Boden of Chicago, Mr. and Mrs. Edward H. Boden entertained last night at a dinner of attractive appointments at their home, 323 East Bishop street.

Mrs. Boden's artistic skill was shown in the table, attractive in its floral decorations and the soft glow of lighted candles. Covers were placed for the hosts, Mr. and Mrs. Boden, Senator and Mrs. Crist, Mr. and Mrs. John Ridgeway Boden, Mr. and Mrs. Charles L. Johnson and John C. Gardner.

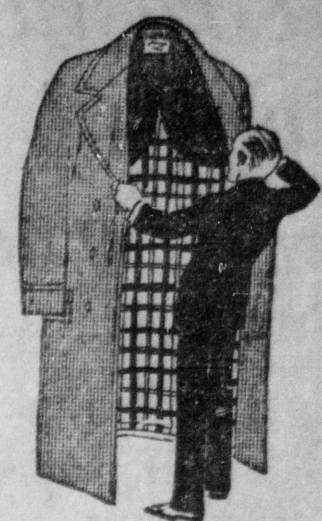

The pleasant evening which followed was enlivened by reminiscences of days in Osceola, former home of nearly all the members of the little group. Tiny Elsie Boden, three months old daughter of the John Bodens, also came in for a large share of attention.

Senator and Mrs. Crist still reside in Osceola and will take their departure for home, early next week after having come to the coast to greet their son, Ensign L. E. Crist Jr., of the U. S. S. California, upon his arrival from Australia. Ensign Crist is in charge of the fleet's radio activities. The John Bodens are here from Chicago where Mr. Boden is a lawyer, connected with the legal department of the Chicago Title and Trust company. They will remain for an extended visit.

BOY, 15, SENTENCED TO DIE, DOESN'T WANT TO BE SAVED

WILLIE CAVALIER AND HIS MOTHER, MRS. RUTH DE ANGELO

Lad Ordered to Electric Chair for Murder of Grandmother

POTTSVILLE, Pa., Jan. 8.—15-year-old boy, who at 14 savagely murdered his grandmother, waits with dullard unconcern in the county jail here for the state's final decision as to whether he shall be electrocuted.

The boy prisoner is Willie Cavalier.

Battling to save his life are his mother, Mrs. Ruth De Angelo, and two young attorneys.

Their last hope is pinned in an appeal to the state board of pardons and the governor's office.

Commutation of the sentence to life imprisonment is sought.

The board of pardons will hold a hearing on this plea early in January.

Whatever recommendation the board makes may be acted on favorably or unfavorably by the governor.

Execution February 1

Meanwhile, execution of the youth has been set for the week of February 1, in the state prison at Rockview.

Capital punishment is reserved for adults in most states. But in Pennsylvania, the electric chair is for child and adult alike.

Youth and age are meted the grimmest of equalities.

Every member of the Schuylkill county jury which convicted the youth, Attorney Charles W. Staudenmeier has been informed, will sign the appeal for commutation.

Staudenmeier and Paul E. Roads were Cavalier's defenders. They were appointed for this duty by the court, because the boy and his mother had no funds with which to pay their own counsel fees.

Says He Doesn't Care

At the county jail, in abrupt jerky monotonies, the boy prisoner says:

"Oh, I'm all right.

"I don't care what they do."

This 15-year-old nominee for the death chamber is blond, tall, slender, shallow-eyed, furtive looking. He obviously is of subnormal intelligence.

"I don't care anything about the pardon board," he said.

"Might as well die as stay in jail all your life."

His mother is a once-a-week visitor to Cavalier's cell. But he greets her with little more warmth than he does anyone else.

Cavalier shot his grandmother, Catherine Cavalier, to death to get money to go to the movies, the state's evidence indicated.

For years his parents had regarded him as wild and "queer."

In his room, after the murder, state police found bloody clothing, and hidden under a mattress two $50 and eight $1 bills of which the dead grandmother had been robbed.

Boy Confesses Murder

The boy confessed, the state police testified.

Four medical experts and keepers of the house of detention in which he at first was confined were witnesses for the defense.

They said the boy was a victim of inherited disease, and was irresponsible. "Morally insane," the doctors called him.

But an expert called by the state swore Willie could distinguish between right and wrong.

Mrs. Emma Diebert was one of the jurors. With some of the men on the panel, she said afterward that the jury misunderstood the instructions of the judge.

They thought, she said, that even in a first-degree murder conviction, the death penalty would not be obligatory.

Ironically enough, as a direct result of the Cavalier trial's outcome, the legislature enacted a law making life sentences for all Pennsylvania murderers optional. But the new law doesn't help Willie Cavalier.

The state supreme court passed on the Cavalier verdict, and upheld it.

Cavalier went to school in Pottsville for a few years, and then had odd jobs around the railroad shops.

But he didn't hold any of his jobs long.

Only Mother Stands by Him

Of his relatives by blood or marriage, only his mother—the daughter of the murder victim—sought to aid and comfort him after he was placed under arrest.

"He never had a chance," the mother said. "Nobody ever was kind to him."

There was three-cornered trouble between the mother, the husband, and Willie's grandparents after the boy's birth, and Willie was left largely to shift for himself.

So now he is in the county jail awaiting his trip to the chair—and professing to scorn the alternative of life imprisonment which the lawyers' appeal to the board of pardons makes possible.

SOVIET AND ITALY TRADE SHOWS GAIN

ROME, Jan. 8.—Statistics show that the trade between Italy and Soviet Russia is increasing rapidly.

Italy, in spite of her Fascist government, always has shown herself ready to enter into trade and commercial relations with Russia, an done of the first commercial treaties made by Premier Mussolini was with the Soviet government.

This last year Russia has exported into Italy goods for a value of seven millions of rubles, while the Italian imports total nearly three millions.

Coal and naptha products are what Italy chiefly takes from the Soviet republic, while the Italian exports consist for the most part of automobiles and automobile parts, silks and oranges and lemons.

The most notable item in Russian exports is coal, the sale of which abroad is increasing fast, and will shortly begin to menace the supremacy of the English market.

RICH REDSKIN RECLUSE NEVER ENTERS TOWN

PAWHUSKA, Okla., Jan. 3.—Worth $150,000, but because someone killed his hounds, the "Wealthy Hermit of the Osage" never comes to town.

Stunned by his own tribe through superstition, alone by choice, Old John Stink, "hill hermit" of Pawhuska, lives in his blanket on the brush hills overlooking the town, and for nearly a decade has never set foot on city streets.

To his full blooded fraternity, John is "the man who came back from beyond." To Pawhuska residents, the aged Indian is a revered recluse who used to sleep with the dogs of the streets.

It is believed the old Osage was born about 65 years ago. It is recounted that at the time the Osages had no patience with the child, who was not healthy and robust. His parents died, and John was thrown out upon the world, destitute, it being stated that members of the tribe divided the property of his parents.

Outcast, the sick Indian moved into the vicinity of Pawhuska, where government payments were made. About this time, John was seized with what apparently was his last illness. Members of the tribe, seeing him in a state of coma, decided he was dead, buried him under a pile of rocks on a high hill.

But John, after the grave diggers had left, arose and came forth to live again. From that date, full-blood Indians avoided John Stink as the man who came back from beyond.

Thereafter, John came to town and slept on the streets of Pawhuska, surrounded by his only friends—a pack of nondescript dogs. Later, a mad dog scare developed, and the city marshal declared war on all strays. John's pets were caught in the barrage, with the exception of one. The Indian grabbed his lone pet to his breast and ran for the hills.

Since that time, the Indian never ventured into the town where the officer killed his dogs.

But in the interim, the town developed from a trading post to a small city, its country club approaching John's hunting ground. Through legal guardianship, the hermit's estate has grown to a small fortune, but he spurns his guardian's offers of a home and motor car, desiring only such luxuries as canned food and high priced hats.

Occasionally, members of the country club see the blanketed Indian standing at the edge of the woods. At their approach, Old John, pointing with an indicative gesture to his head, will say:

"Heap big fools, all time chase um little white balls"—to again retreat into the brush.

State Is Loser By Poor Scales Survey Reveals

SACRAMENTO, Calif., Jan. 3.—Millions of dollars worth of materials used in the various state institutions of California annually have been weighed on inaccurate, inadequate and sometimes antiquated scales, a survey of weight-registering devices in these institutions indicates.

Deputy John W. Wylie of the state department of agriculture, who recently completed an examination of scales at Folsom and San Quentin penitentiaries, Napa, Arness and Stockton state hospitals, and other institutions states in a report made public today:

"I found considerable apparatus out of repair. At Agnews the scales are inadequate. The wagon scale has only a 10-ton capacity which makes it impossible to weigh accurately the large loads of merchandise coming in or going out of the institution.

"At another institution I found a pharmacy scale of very ancient vintage. In the day when sage tea, sulphur and syrup were the principle remedies prescribed by a doctor this scale might have been good, but in these days of high powered drugs it is not very reliable."

Fail In Attempt To Find American Indian's Origin

MADISON, Wis., Jan. 3.—All attempts of science in 1925 to fix the origin of the American Indian in European or Asiatic sources have failed, and the American aborigines remain an enigma in scientific research.

This was revealed to the Society of American Bacteriologists here, when a Kansas girl reported that she had found no resemblance of blood grouping of Indians with European or Asiatic races.

She made a personal study of 800 Indians. The worker, Miss Clara Nigg, of the University of Kansas, said her findings may indicate that the American Indians stand alone as an individual or third group in world races, contrary to the scientific theories that they sprang from an Old World stock.

The Meaning of Christmas Day

The best day comes, and merry bells are ringing,
Filling the air with happiness and cheer,
O'er all the Christian world glad tidings bringing,
Of welcome to the best time of the year.

'Tis well to pause in earnest contemplation
Ere wild festivities begin their sway,
And ask ourselves: What means this celebration?
Why do we give each other gifts today?

From the creation down through all the ages,
God in His wisdom dealt with sinful man,
Sending great leaders, prophets, teachers, sages,
Who labored as a part of His great plan.

As time passed on, the world grew black with sinning,
Men turned from God, in wicked paths to stray,
Then He withheld the end from the beginning,
Provided for mankind a Better Way.

For God so loved the world His Son He proffered
To rescue it from sin and set it free;
Not to condemn it was the Savior offered,
But that the world through Him might saved be.

Long years ago, within a manger lowly,
The Son of God took human form on earth,
And as a babe was born so pure and holy,
Announced by angels was His wondrous birth.

Shepherds abiding with their flocks at even,
Heard rapturous music floating over head,
And guided by a bright star in the heaven,
Followed its leading to the manger bed.

And wise men came great adoration showing,
Bearing rich gold and myrrh and incense sweet;
Before the Christ Child in mute reverence bowing,
They poured their choicest offerings at His feet.

So this is why in glad commemoration,
We bring our gifts, the best we can afford,
To show our love and deep appreciation
Of Christmas day, the birthday of our Lord.

SPECIAL TRAIN TO CARRY BODY OF MARGHERITA

BORDIGHERA, Jan. 8.—The body of Dowager Queen Margherita will be taken by special train from here Sunday on its journey to Rome, where the queen will sleep within the portals of the ancient Pantheon near her husband, King Humbert.

Official plans for the funeral, made known today, call for the funeral train to halt at main stations enroute to the capital, that the populace may do its homage to a woman united Italy loved. At the smaller stations the death train will slow down.

Making the last journey with the Queen Mother will be members of the Genoa branch of the House of Savoy and two cabinet members, but at Rome more extensive ceremonies will mark her passage to the grave.

Will Halt at Pantheon
The funeral train arrives at Rome Monday morning and from the station the hearse and other coaches will cross the main thoroughfares of the city, coming to a halt before the Pantheon, relic of the early days of the Christian era. Beneath the portico, the queen, the princesses and the wives of foreign ambassadors will be gathered to await the body.

Then within the hallowed pile, funeral services will be said before a company of the great by the royal chaplain, Mgr. Beccaria.

Services, originally discussed for the Church of Santa Maria Degli Angeli, have been eliminated, as the king was understood to have felt that two church functions were unnecessary.

Hundreds of Wreaths
While monks and nuns still kept their saddened watch about the bier of Italy's queen mother, wreaths by the hundreds arrived today to speak their message of devotion.

Not alone the great of the nation forwarded these mute tributes, for simple folk of the mills and farms added their less pretentious gifts of flowers.

From Premier Mussolini, deep admirer of the queen mother's splendid character, came a wreath of red carnations of unusual variety, grown in the sun of the Riviera and known as "Mussolini blooms."

JAPANESE TO GET PICTURE BRIDES

TOKIO, Jan. 8.—Ten thousand at present lonely Japanese bachelors in Mexico and South America will be made happy with mates from their homeland next year, if the plan, being worked up by Mrs. K. Tarama, wife of the Japanese consul at San Paulo, Brazil, and endorsed by the authorities in Japan, matures as she hopes.

Mrs. Tarama now is in Japan organizing the first party of picture brides for South America.

Before she sails she hopes to have a number of bride selecting organizations at work, picking out eligible wives for Japanese pioneers abroad. She estimates that in Brazil there are homes waiting for 5000 brides from Japan, 3000 in the Argentine, 1000 in Mexico and 2000 in other South and Central American countries.

Rhine Contains Fortune In Gold

Berlin, Jan. 8.—Four hundred and fifty pounds of gold float down the Rhine every year—and mere man is obliged to look on helplessly and let it float.

Professor Haber, distinguished chemist and head of the Kaiser Wilhelm Institute here, has disclosed by chemical analysis that the waters of the Rhine contain about 2-1000 milligrams of gold per cubic meter of water. Admittedly, this amount is so small that it would not repay the efforts of modern technology to exploit it. But the total quantity of gold carried into the Atlantic ocean annually exceeds one-fifth of a long ton.

Experts in German folklore wonder whether the ancient saga regarding "Rhine gold," which Richard Wagner embodied in his Nibelungen Ring, was perhaps based on a subtle knowledge of the existence of gold in the river.

O'Brien Boy Thin and Pale

In a Little Over Two Months Gained Eleven Pounds

As a body builder, an appetite creator, and to make weak, skinny boys and girls sturdy, strong and full of energy, there is nothing like Cod Liver Oil—any physician will tell you that.

But it's the horrible stuff to take, and is apt to upset any stomach, so now doctors are prescribing and wise parents are buying McCoy's Cod Liver Oil Compound Tablets—sugar coated, and as easy to take as candy.

The son of George G. O'Brien of Me. Wash. N. J., was thin and pale and did not get enough nourishment from his food. In a little over two months, he gained eleven and one-half pounds, and feels and looks one hundred per cent better.

Mothers, if any of your children are weak, thin, or puny, give them these tablets, his directed for 30 days, and watch them gain flesh and health from day to day—they seldom fail—but if the unusual should happen and you are not supremely satisfied with results—your druggist is authorized to return your money.

Be sure—always—to get the original and genuine McCoy's Cod Liver Oil Compound Tablets—60 tablets 60 cents at White Cross Drug Co., C. S. Kelley Drug Co., Mather's or any druggist in America. Thousands of boxes sold daily.

'POISON' WRITER SENT TO PRISON

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 8.—William Elmer Wolfe, convicted in federal court this week of sending sedition matter through the mails, was sentenced by Federal Judge John S. Patridge to serve 10 years in federal prison.

The prison term is made up of two sentences of five years each on two counts, the sentences to run consecutively.

Wolfe was adjudged sane in a hearing ordered by the court, but will be examined again as to his sanity when he reaches prison.

Wolfe was arrested in Oakland recently after a five-year search, started when the man attacked the president, cabinet officers and diplomats in a series of circulars.

McCormick Firm Highest Bidder For Six Vessels

WASHINGTON, Jan. 8.—The Charles McCormack Lumber company, San Francisco, was the highest bidder for the six combination cargo-passenger government-owned ships of the Pacific Argentine Brazil line, operating between the Pacific coast and the Atlantic coast of South America.

The McCormack company bid $49,000 for each ship. The only other bidder when the shipping board opened offers was the Swayne and Hoyt company, San Francisco, which offered $48,000 cash for each to buy one ship a year while operating the line at prices ranging from $50,000 to $100,000 a ship.

The bids were referred to the fleet corporation for a recommendation.

DEATH TAKES MONO SQUAW AGED 110

CLOVIS, Calif., Jan. 8.—"Squaw Jim," more than a century old, and one of the famous characters of the Mono tribe in the Sierras, is dead here. It is estimated that she was 110 years old.

"Squaw Jim" caused a sensation in her tribe several years ago by her conversion to a spectacular ceremony after resisting Christianity for most of her life. She will be buried as a Christian, but members of her tribe are expected to go through the ceremony of jumping over her grave, the successful achievement of which is taken as an indication that there will be no more tribe deaths during this year.

However, if any of the tribe members fail, that is taken as an omen of death. At the last ceremony, it was said that one fell, although "Squaw Jim" was declared to have essayed the leap successfully.

to attend to business. Mrs. Charles Berger and Mrs. H. A. Brown were business visitors in Los Angeles, yesterday.

P. J. Barber, who resided at 221 South Lemon street, is now located at 3923 Hudson street, Seattle, Wn.

1925 REPORT ON COINAGE ISSUED

WASHINGTON, Jan. 8.—Mints in the United States turned out 308,645,886 coins, valued at $216,486,865, for domestic use during 1925. It is announced at the treasury department.

There were 10,124,750 gold coins, valued at $192,410,000, minted, and 63,342,036 silver pieces, worth $19,974,218, were turned out.

The government coined 46,271,000 nickels and 188,909,000 pennies.

In the silver coinage, there was an output of 2,314,709 Stone Mountain half dollars; 162,999 Lexington-Concord half dollars, 150,200 California Diamond Jubilee half dollars and 50,028 Vancouver half dollars.

In addition to the domestic coinage, the mints turned out 1,500,000 pieces of money for Poland, 1,291,000 for Peru, 1,571,000 for Guatemala, 6,200,000 for Salvador, and 2,800,000 for Venezuela.

Tests Alarm to See If It Worked

LOUISVILLE, Ky., Jan. 8.—The burglar alarm on Mrs. Jane Lindburger's shop works and she is satisfied she is getting her money's worth. A squad of policemen, arriving in answer to an alarm from Mrs. Lindburger's shop, was told "she wanted to see if she was getting service."

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 8.—James Benson was given a legal drink of whiskey here when he was bitten by a rattlesnake. A half hour later attendants at a market street museum discovered that someone previously had removed the poison sacs of the serpent, but Benson refused to return the drink.

Obstacle to Dam Action Deplored By Phil D. Swing

WASHINGTON, Jan. 8.—Representative Phil D. Swing, Republican, California, has issued a statement deploring the enforced withdrawal of Imperial valley advocates of the Boulder dam project from Washington because of an injunction in California against them.

"A more critical time could not have been imagined," said Swing, "nor is it possible to imagine the damage that may ensue."

Swing charged that the legal obstacle was the work of "officials and others who, while rendering lip service to the cause, are seeking behind the scenes and by every means possible to block the effort to secure the development of the Colorado river interests of the people."

Unless the Boulder canyon-Imperial valley problem is solved, Swing said, "the Imperial irrigation district may soon have no functions to perform because the community it serves may cease to exist."

E. T. McFADDEN IS ELECTED AS SUCCESSOR TO FRANK ANDREWS

Will Fill Unexpired Term Of Deceased Member of Santa Ana School Board

MISS BETH PHILLIPS IS NAMED AS CLERK

New Trustee Will Not Take Over Secretarial, Managerial Duties of Staff

Edwin T. McFadden, general manager of the John McFadden Hardware company, yesterday afternoon was elected a member of the Santa Ana Board of Education to fill the unexpired term of the late Frank L. Andrews.

At the same time, the board elected Miss Beth Phillips as clerk of the board.

Andrews was secretary of the board and business manager of the schools. McFadden merely takes Andrews' place as a member of the body.

It was explained today that the board later may appoint a business manager, or some one to take care of the outside work of the board, in looking after the business of the schools.

The session yesterday afternoon was brief and was called for the purpose of filling the vacancy created by the death of Andrews.

McFadden is a graduate of the Santa Ana high school and of Pomona college. He formerly was commander of Santa Ana post, No. 131, American Legion, and is a member of the present Orange county harbor commission.

Welch Leaves To Represent County

NEWPORT BEACH, Jan. 8.—Harry Welch, secretary of the Orange County Harbor Chamber of Commerce, and city advertising manager for Newport Beach, left today for San Francisco, where he will represent Orange county at a meeting of the Western Fair association.

Welch will also represent the county at a special meeting of fair exhibitors to be held in San Francisco, Saturday.

Hear Rev. D. S. Corlett, a veteran of the World War. He has a very interesting message. He will speak tonight and tomorrow night at the Church of the Nazarene, corner of Fifth and Parton streets, at 7:30 o'clock.

MOST COLLEGIATE MAN AND PRETTIEST COLLEGE CO-ED

Left—Henrik Van Rensselaer, declared to be the most collegiate man in the Santa Ana junior college, although he does not wear Oxford bag trousers.

Right—Miss Dora McWaters, voted the most beautiful co-ed in the junior college.

UNIFORM DRESS OF GRADUATION DECIDED UPON

Girls in the graduating classes of the Julia C. Lathrop and the Frances E. Willard junior high schools of this city may wear graduating dresses of flannel, serge, linen or heavy cotton material, such as linen or cotton broadcloth. It was announced today by Mrs. Edith Proctor, dean of girls at the Frances E. Willard school, and Mrs. Iva Webber, dean of girls at the Julia C. Lathrop school.

Skirts of the dresses must be 18 inches from the floor in order to present a uniform appearance, and shoes must be of black or tan color, preferably black, according to the deans of the two schools.

The agreement in the matter of dress materials and other requirements for dress for the graduation exercises here January 29, was reached yesterday, at a conference of girls, parents and teachers of the two schools.

The graduating exercises will be held January 29, at 7:30 p. m., in the high school auditorium. Classes from both the junior high schools will receive their diplomas at that time.

L. A. PASTOR TO TALK HERE AT CHURCH MEET

Dr. E. H. Rowland, chairman of the program committee for the Inter-Church Brotherhood meeting, to be held next Tuesday night, announced this morning that Dr. George A. Warner, pastor of the West Lake Methodist church, Los Angeles, will be the principal speaker on the program.

It is expected that at least 500 men will attend the meeting, which includes the Men's clubs or Brotherhoods of virtually every church in Santa Ana.

The banquet part of the evening will be divided between the Y. M. C. A., Presbyterian church and Baptist church, according to W. B. Martin, chairman of the banquet committee. Immediately following the banquet, the group will gather in the Baptist church auditorium to hear a musical program and at the conclusion, the address by Dr. Warner.

It was pointed out that the program will be purely in the nature of an enjoyable get together of all the churchmen of the city, with no definite motive, other than Christian fellowship, in mind. The executive committee responsible for the arrangement of the program is composed of W. B. Martin, Dr. E. H. Rowland, M. B. Wellington, Albert Rohrs, John Paul Lee, the Rev. H. G. Burgess, C. N. Moxley, H. M. Sammis, the Rev. S. N. Edgar and Roland E. Dye.

LAY PLANS FOR CLUB'S ANNUAL MEMBER DRIVE

Various Methods of Inducing Regular Attendance Are Discussed by Lions

Discussion of club business matters occupied the time of the Lions club yesterday, at its weekly session at St. Ann's Inn. John A. Henderson, chairman of the committee on constitution and by-laws, was program chairman and introduced many subjects for discussion by the membership to get the views of members so that directors could act intelligently in voting on the subject.

A financial report, covering the last six months, revealed that receipts about balance expenditures of the club for the period. Henderson announced that the board of directors had decided at its last meeting to discontinue mailing of the Lions Truth, the club's weekly paper, and instead will distribute the publication at each meeting.

The club in February will institute its annual attendance contest, in conjunction with other clubs of Lions International and considerable discussion was had as to the best method of inducing attendance of members each week during the contest. In the past it has been the custom to divide the club into two teams and to create subdivisions by which members called other members, on the meeting day, to remind them of their obligation to attend.

Opposition to adoption of this plan dominated discussions, the sentiment being that each member should be sufficiently interested in his club to attend sessions without having to be notified prior to a meeting.

E. J. Hummel, former member of the faculty of the Santa Ana high school and now superintendent of guest, having been accompanied here by Earl Allers. Hummel recently was elected president of the newly organized Beverly Hills club and he was here to ascertain how many Santa Ana Lions would attend the charter presentation in Beverly Hills January 26.

Violin selections by Ronald Crookshank provided the special musical program.

Paper Made from Eucalyptus Wood

MADISON, Wis., Jan. 8.—A source that will give a plentiful supply of newspaper paper at low cost has been found by the forest products laboratory of the University of Wisconsin.

Successful experiments conducted by the laboratory have resulted in the production of paper from eucalyptus wood grown in Sao Paulo, Brazil. A small roll run through the press of a newspaper here showed favorable printing quality and ample strength for use in high speed presses, experimenters said.

Dr. Edmundo Navarro de Andrade, who observed the experiment, said he believed the new product would bring paper manufacture into prominence in Brazil. The paper can be produced at about half the cost of the present imported newspaper, the laboratory estimated.

The eucalyptus can be grown in California, New Mexico, Arizona and Florida, where the climate is such that the tree probably would reach pulp wood size in less than 10 years, giving what research workers believe will be a perpetual supply of paper to fill the shortage due to the depletion of spruce.

BALBOA CHOSEN AS BACKGROUND FOR NEW FIRM

Balboa put on a festive appearance today, with gaily colored flags strung along Main street, banners waving in the breeze, announcing the big "Oceanville Athletic Meet," and heralding the coming of the F. B. O. film corporation, which, with its stars, Miss Alberta Vaughn, Larry Kent, Gilbert Cook and Kit Guard, and a company of 75 or 80 extras and camera men, arrived last night to "shoot" scenes for "Fighting Hearts."

Bright and early this morning, electricians and property men were putting up the flags and banners and soon the cameras were clicking, taking a series of "still" pictures, which later will be used for advertising purposes.

E. Fisher, who is in charge of the company, announced this morning that scenes taken in Balboa will include the ocean front, the bay and island. The company expects to remain in Balboa three or four days.

The theme for the new comedy series, which the F. B. O. company is producing, centers around a young fellow, who wishes to break into the newspaper game. He begins first as a louty operator and later works as a reporter. In "Fighting Hearts," Larry Kent, who plays the part of the hero "struts his stuff," not only as an expert louty operator but also as the big, full-chested athlete, who captures all the prizes and incidentally wins the girl, Alberta Vaughn.

Ralph Cedar is directing the company.

Last year, the same company shot scenes in and around Balboa. A group of Max Sennett bathing beauties also are stationed in Balboa, shooting scenes along the beach and bay.

BREA PLANTS GET FOREIGN ORDERS

Three Brea plants manufacturing oil field equipment are starting the new year with foreign orders on their books, according to telegraphic advices received from the Amtorg Trading company, New York, American representatives of several European governments.

Tentative orders placed last month which were confirmed by wire this morning include casing and packing heads from the Shaffer Tool works, to be shipped to Baku, southern Russia; oil and gas separators from the Duro Engineering company, and rotary hose swivels from McGraw and Sons' foundry, destined for the oil fields of Rumania.

All of the equipment ordered consists of patented devices developed in Southern California fields, according to Frank Mason, superintendent of the Shaffer Tool works, and has been chosen by representatives of the Soviet and Rumanian governments solely on its merits.

"The entire world is ready to admit that California men, California methods and California equipment and tools lead the world when it comes to oil development," said Mason this morning, "and most of the wildcatting operations going on in remote parts of the world are being directed by men trained in Southern California fields, many of them from this immediate territory."

Antonoff Soultz, of Pasadena, representing the Russian government, will personally inspect the Baku shipments before the specially constructed export boxes are closed, according to the Brea report, and marking on the containers will be done in both Russian and English. The expense of extra packing is added to the cost of the equipment and payment will be in cash as soon as inspection is completed. The January consignment will total several thousand dollars, and inquiries already in are said to indicate more business of this nature in the near future.

Average Places State Population Near 5 Million

SACRAMENTO, Jan. 8.—The business of determining California's New Year population occupied three state departments today, and a total of 4,566,131 men, women and children was arrived at as an average of three estimates based on property values, school attendance and federal census methods.

State Controller Ray L. Riley placed the population at 4,999,850 on the basis of property worth, maintaining that increases in assessed valuations are invariably accompanied by gains in population.

ASK BOARD TO POST CHICKEN THEFT REWARD

The Orange County Farm bureau committee, to prevent chicken thievery, has requested the board of supervisors to post a $1000 reward for the arrest and conviction of chicken thieves, according to a report made yesterday afternoon to the directors of the bureau, meeting in the Hall of Records.

Jackie Seale, who has been heard several times over Los Angeles radio stations, gave the directors several readings and gave the board the honor of giving him a "name de radio."

The submission of the report on the proposed construction of a dam at Prado was laid over until the meeting scheduled for February 4. A "dutch treat" has been arranged for that meeting, each director being requested to bring four of his members to the meeting.

In recognition of the valuable services of E. E. Searby, the secretary was directed to draw a check as a concrete expression of their appreciation and to help to reimburse him for some of his personal expense met in connection with his work.

A number of reports were heard from the various departments showing that all of these departments of the bureau were in active condition and that the committees were all busy in the projects assigned them.

A number of directors were appointed on committees to solicit members in the various incorporated municipalities.

Italian Discovers Perfect Embalming

MILAN, Jan. 7.—Discovery of a form embalming superior to the method of the ancient Egyptians and calculated to replace all modern systems of preserving the dead, is claimed by Dr. Alfredo Maggia, of Milan.

At the central hospital of Novara, a town near Milan, Dr. Maggia gave to a conference of medical men and scientists a proof of the efficacy of his system.

The body of a man treated by his special methods six months ago was shown to the doctors present, who were said to recognize that the system of embalming employed had perfectly preserved not only the body but the lineaments of the face.

With Dr. Maggia's system, no sectioning of the body takes place, but certain injections are used.

TEMPLE THEATRE
"Charley's Uncle," now playing at the Temple theater with the Connell Players, is drawing near the end, making way for the year's greatest comedy drama, "The Sap." Manager Bob Connell is staking his reputation as a show man on this one believing that it is the best by far that he has ever produced. Bob Alderman will be the feature in the cast with Millie Hart as his wife.

The story has to do with three sisters who live in a small town. One of the boys earns $18 a week working in a bank and a sister earns $25, while "The Sap" is in bad on every job owing to the fact that he tries to improve everything that he comes in contact with.

The story opens up with the preparing of breakfast at a time when everyone in the family get up on the wrong side of the bed including the cat.

If ever a story was true to life it is this one. The "razzing" they hand one another is about the cleverest bit of work to hit the American stage. The love interest that runs through the play is very touching at times, and the comedy is supreme. Manager Connell believes that while the comedy in the bill is 90 per cent, the story will appeal to every one that follows either the serious type or the comedy.

WEST COAST-WALKER
Today and tomorrow at the West Coast-Walker is one of the biggest and best vaudeville bills ever to play at this theater. On the screen Rin-Tin-Tin, the wonder dog, will be seen in "Below the Line."

Doyle and the Day Sisters introduce harmony singing, ukeleles, jazz numbers, piano and dancing. If you want to see two of America's prettiest young ladies, in some of the fastest dancing numbers ever presented don't fail to see the Day Sisters.

Billy Single Clifford, former musical comedy star, presents himself for the first time in vaudeville in a novel offering of songs and comedy.

Cates and Marie, youthful duo will present an unusual musical oddity. There are many musical acts on the vaudeville stage today but in Cates and Marie one will see the acme of youthful presentations.

Frank and May Stanley in their offering "Ropes and Jokes," are sweeping along on their way to stardom. This offering is one of the most unusual ever offered anywhere and is bound to please.

Roberts and Davis offer a comedy singing, talking and dancing skit entitled "A Rural Revue." Miss Davis in her impersonation of "Huckleberry Finn" does the comedy for Roberts, who as the wise character from the city, form a team of clever entertainers.

"Below the Line" has for its theme the exciting story of a vicious, snarling dog made loyal and brave through loving training. Rin-Tin-Tin, who will be remembered by all enthusiasts of dog pictures for his remarkable work in "Where the North Begins" is said to outshine all previous performances. The cast includes John Harron, June Marlowe, Pat Hartigan and Edith Yorke.

Completing the bill is Clyde Cook in "Starvation Blues" a real laugh provoker and an Aesop's Fables.

The STUDEBAKER
SIGN OVER OUR DOOR
stands for SERVICE
SPECIALIZED, EXPERT, EXPERIENCED, ECONOMICAL

Every month you see more New Studebaker cars in the streets and boulevards of Santa Ana. There are two reasons: public confidence in One-Price Studebaker cars; local confidence in the specialized expert service of the Harry D. Riley Studebaker Organization.

The good will and satisfaction of people who own Studebaker cars in Orange county is much more important to us than profits on owner service. That's why we operate our service stations to PLEASE people, build good-will and sell more Studebakers—profit from service is always secondary.

This is what makes good service.

Trained mechanics—specializing on one make car permanently. We have no Jack-of-all-Makes in our service stations. They have been with us for years. Specialized Studebaker tools to handle service efficiently and economically. Their use saves our mechanics hours of time and saves Studebaker owners dollars. Our mechanics never "guess" what is needed—they know before they begin the job. Flat Rate charges—We estimate in advance just what each job will cost. If work is not satisfactory, we do it over at our expense. Your satisfaction with any car you buy depends on the car-fifty per cent on the local dealer. That's why we are making the Studebaker sign mean something in Santa Ana. HARRY D. RILEY.

Our stock of Certified used cars are going fast—but we still have a wide selection of good buys—at prices to suit all. Don't buy until you see what we have—wait—and save money and disappointment. Below is partial list.

A GOOD car for someone—Chandler touring. Good rubber, windings, rear-view mirror and stop light. In good mechanical condition. Look this one over, $225.

A SNAPPY looking car—Studebaker Big 6 Speedster. New Lacquer paint. Brown with Black stripe. "Tonneau" windings, motor meter, bumpers, snubbers, trunk. Completely reconditioned. A wonderful buy, $1275.

A GOOD sedan for somebody—Maxwell. New 2-tone Lacquer paint. Hampton Grey and Blue; 5 good tires, disc wheels, in good mechanical condition, $650.

HERE it is—Just what you want. Studebaker Special 6 touring. New Lacquer paint. French Blue; 5 good tires in splendid condition mechanically. Certified car. Remember the Studebaker reputation, $675.

HERE'S another—Studebaker Special 6 touring. New paint. Beaver Brown with Black stripe; 5 good tires, bumpers, motor meter, windshield wiper. Completely overhauled and reconditioned. Don't forget it's a Studebaker, $585.

HERE'S a knockout—Studebaker of paint. Grey, Green and Pearl Grey; 5 good tires, bumpers, automatic windshield wiper. Disc wheels. Completely reconditioned. Certified car. See this one before you buy, $1150.

AESOP'S FABLE HOLDS GOOD IN SENATE BATTLE

By C. B. DODDS
Special Correspondent

WASHINGTON, Jan. 8.—Aesop's old fable about the chap who locked his stable after the theft of the horse holds good in the fight now going on in the senate to make the proposed estate tax reduction retroactive.

The country took little interest in the proposal when the house ways and means committee agreed to take the "hump" out of the estate tax provisions and because there was so little interest, the committee just took the retroactive feature out of the bill and it passed in that form.

Now Washington is swarming with interested individuals and they are descending on the senate finance committee in battle formation. But it may be too late. Nevertheless the fight is going on and it bids fair to make the "front page" before it is over.

Boost Tax Sky-High

In all its history, the United States never has had an estate tax except during a national emergency and the tax always has been repealed as soon as the emergency (always a war) was over. But through some hokus pokus, the congress, with the aid of the La Follette radicals, boosted the estate tax sky-high in the revenue act of 1924, six years after the war was over. The pending revenue bill proposes to reduce the estate tax on big estates to 20 per cent from its present confiscatory rate of 40 per cent. What the army of estate tax folks now in Washington want is to have the reduction made retroactive so the tax will be what it was prior to June 2, 1924.

Secretary Mellon is against any estate tax at all but doesn't care much whether the proposed reduction is made retroactive. Senator Smoot, chairman of the finance committee, is said to be in favor of the retroactive feature of the bill and it is hoped that when the bill is reported out it will carry the retroactive clause. Then a bitter fight is expected on the floor of the senate, the outcome of which is in doubt. But if the retroactive battle is successful there an equally hard fight can be looked for when the bill reaches the conference committee, inasmuch as the house passed the bill without the desired clause.

Deluged With Statements

The senate finance committee is being deluged with statements to the effect that not a few of the very large estates will have considerable difficulty in meeting the 40 per cent tax. It is even probable, these statements have it, that some great industries will have to be closed out over the auction block to raise the cash necessary. With frozen assets being sacrificed to meet the cash payment due the government it is not inconceivable that the result will bring about financial distress that may be far-reaching.

Russia has abandoned the estate tax, according to information given the senate committee, after noting the ill effects on industry, and Italy has done likewise.

Japanese Girl Athlete Breaks Track Records

OSAKA, Jan. 8.—Miss Kikuyo Hitomi, famous Japanese girl athlete, has now two world records to her credit, the hop-step-jump and standing high jump.

At the recent Japan Olympic carnival, held in Osaka, she established a new record of 1.14 meters in the standing high jump event, breaking the previous world record of 1.017 meters held by Miss Williams, of America.

She previously had established a world record of 11.425 meters in the hop-step-jump event, breaking the world's record of 10.223, held by Miss Stein, of America.

She is coming to America next spring to study general athletic events and physical exercises.

LONG LOST KIN ARE UNITED BY VOICE IN RADIO

COLUMBUS, O., Jan. 8.—Radio flashing a message over nearly 1000 miles of space united a brother and sister in Worthington, near here, after a separation of 40 years.

Mrs. Robert Eakin longed to see her brother, Alonzo Jones, on New Year's day. She didn't know where he was. Then, she said, she had a dream she could reach him by radio. She told her story to the officials of WEAO, Ohio state university radio casting station.

Several weeks ago Jones and his four children were sitting around their radio in their plantation home in Mississippi county, Arkansas. A daughter was listening in. Clearly and distinctly came this message:

"Alonzo Jones, wherever you are, listen."

"Papa come quick," Jones clapped the headphones on.

Again came the voice. "Your sister wants to see you in Worthington, O. She has neither seen nor heard from you in 40 years. You were born in Antiquity, O., at the time of the Civil war. You were raised by Capt. William Roberts, an Ohio river flatboat man. You ran away while the boat was lying at the bank in Arkansas. My name is Mrs. Robert Eakin."

Three times the excited Jones heard this message from the announcer at WEAO. Then the resumption of routine announcements rang the curtain down on the drama.

Jones telegraphed his sister he would be in her Worthington home New Year's day.

FAKIR IN TRANCE TIPS OFF BETTORS

CESENA, Jan. 8.—"Put your money on numbers 4, 27 and 32 for the Turin lottery on Saturday," came a sepulchral voice from the coffin.

The public gathered in the Communal theater at Cesena made a rapid note of the numbers tipped off by the spooky voice, which was that of the modern fakir Manetti, who was in a cataleptic state doing his favorite stunt of being shut up in a double coffin of zinc and wood for a given period of time.

The numbers given by Manetti won, but not in the Turin lottery. They came out in the drawing made at Bari the same day, and as a number of persons, determined to take no chances with fakirism, had backed the numbers for the entire eight lotteries, which are held every Saturday in Italy in the eight principal cities, they registered considerably. The winnings netted two and a half million lire.

University Will Have New Stadium

GRAND RAPIDS, N. D., Jan. 8.—Paul L. Samuelson, alumnus, is chairman of a drive to raise funds for a new $500,000 memorial stadium, gymnasium and field at the University of North Dakota. The new stadium, which will be dedicated after that at the University of Illinois, will be the finest in the Northwest, except the one at the University of Minnesota.

Bananas were first seen in London in 1613, when a bunch was exhibited in the window of an apothecary shop.

George Wendell Crawford

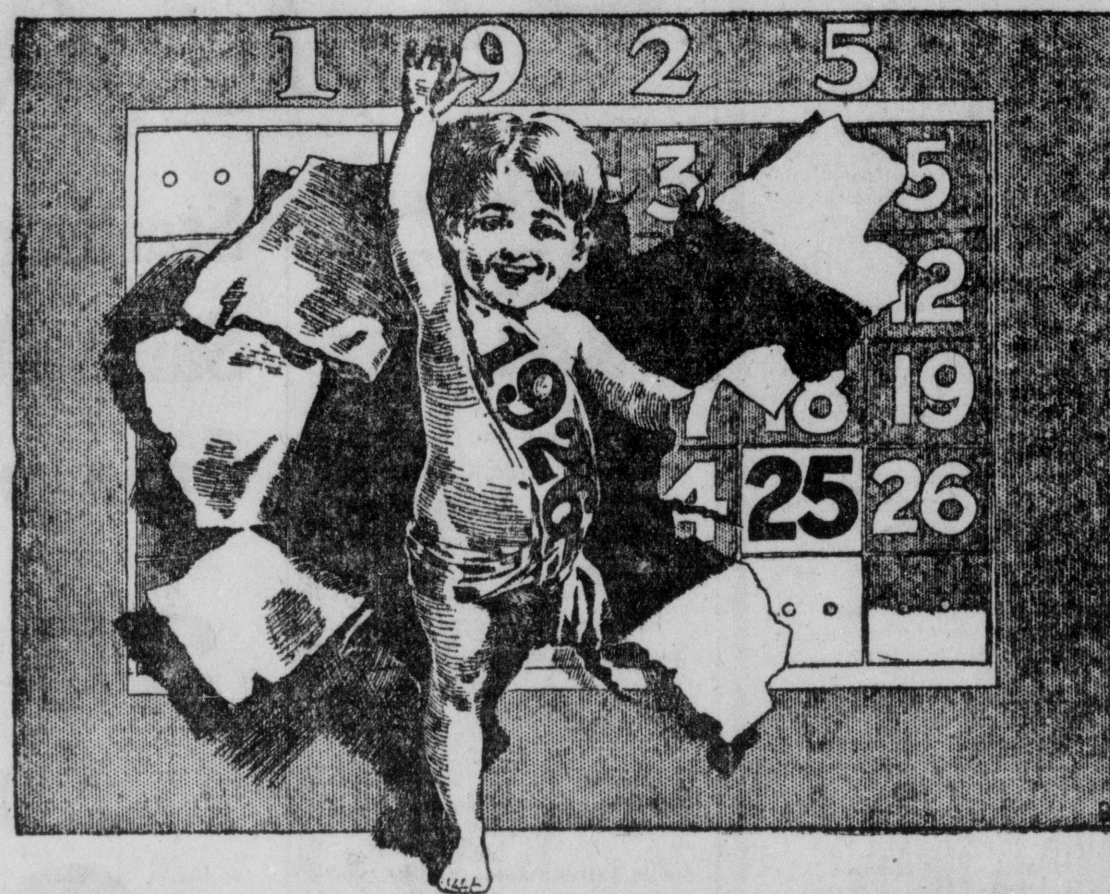

WAS BORN NEW YEAR'S DAY
AT 12:40 P. M.

Santa Ana's first New Year's Babe is Master George Wendell Crawford, who was born at 12:40 o'clock in the afternoon of January 1. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. George R. Crawford, 1101 West Fourth street.

Being the first 1926 Babe, George's father and mother will receive almost a score of presents for their new son and for themselves. An offer was made by a number of merchants in the city, giving valuable prizes to the parents of Santa Ana's first New Year's baby.

George is a real baby too. He weighed 11 pounds at birth, has light brown hair and big blue eyes.

The father is an employe of the station warehouse at Irvine and is a miller by trade.

SCHOOL TEACHERS TO LEARN DANCES

Folk dancing for teachers will be given at the Santa Ana polytechnic high school each Tuesday evening through arrangement with the extension department of the University of California.

Enrollments for the course are being made with Miss Frances Donnan, secretary at the high school. Twenty registrations must be received before the class can be assured, it is announced. Two units of university credits are offered. The class will be conducted by Martin Tribel, of Los Angeles, who is an authority on national folk dances suitable for grades from kindergarten through the high school. Teachers of any department, who may want to learn the dances either for recreation or for training to teach students, may enroll and the class is open to others interested in folk dancing.

GARDEN GROVE

GARDEN GROVE, Jan. 8.—The high school P.-T. A., will hold its regular monthly meeting in the high school, Monday evening, at 7:30 o'clock.

J. A. Cranston, of Santa Ana, will be the principal speaker of the evening. He will speak on the new educational bill before Congress, which provides for a department of education in the president's cabinet. Special music will be furnished.

Members of the Home Economics club were entertained at the home of Mrs. Cecil Hall on Tuesday afternoon.

The topic of the afternoon was "The Care of Babies."

A short business meeting was held and Mrs. H. G. Hevener was taken in as a new member. The next meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. P. F. Gallienne on the first Tuesday afternoon in February.

The hostess served refreshments to the following members: Mrs. Enola Monroe, Mrs. Mildred Smiley, Mrs. Laura Smith, Mrs. Hortense Rosselot, Mrs. Winifred German, Mrs. Pearl Wasson and Mrs. H. G. Hevener.

The regular noon-day luncheon and business meeting of the Garden Grove Lions club was held at Woman's Civic club, Wednesday, with a good attendance.

The Telephone's Inheritance

IN its material equipment the telephone was born poor. The art of telephony inherited little from older branches of the art of communications that could help its technical progress toward its destiny of usefulness. There was a spiritual heritage, however, for the telephone worker was heir to the tradition that had grown with the years among those who undertook to transmit or transport the words of men.

The message must go through! Greek runner, Roman courier, King's messenger, and Pony Express rider, sped to their distant goals self-urged by a consciousness that human need was being served. At the switchboard or telegraph key, in the mail car or airplane, the manifestation of this urge is ever present.

Telephone service by its very nature inherits this Spirit of Communication. For the men and women who comprise the organization that is today responsible for the delivery of 50,000,000 messages a day, it is the endowment with which their service began.

Sunday's Games
Shields Paint Co. vs. Van Dien-Young Co. at Costa Mesa.
Cypress at Laguna Beach.
Costa Mesa at Tustin.

Final games of the 1925-26 Orange County Harbor Baseball League season will be played Sunday afternoon. The day's major attraction will be contest at Costa Mesa between the Shields Paint company and the Van Dien-Young company and the championship of the league depends on the outcome of the squabble between these two Santa Ana aggregations.

The Truckers have a lead of one full game and if they win the Sabbath's turmoil they will be "in" as league title-holder. Should the Painters take the measure of the Van Dien-Young outfit, their victory would throw the race into a tie between Westminster and the Van Dien-Youngs. The Painters would have a chance to make it a triple tie by also winning from Laguna Beach in the play-off of a tied contest.

There will be no games at Midway City Sunday, the Santa Ana Woodmen of the World having notified Westminster of their intention to forfeit this contest. Tustin meets Costa Mesa at Tustin and Cypress travels to Laguna Beach.

At last night's meeting of Harbor

UNIVERSITY OF CALIFORNIA PLUNGED IN GLOOM AS WORD RECEIVED OF SMITH'S DEATH

BERKELEY, Calif., Jan. 8.—"Andy" Smith is dead. The word spread rapidly over the University of California campus today, plunging the student body into gloom.

Popular "Andy" the rugged gridiron coach who placed the Golden Bears on the football map, was steadily improving, according to the latest word received here. His death was most unexpected, the whole student body anticipating his early return for spring training.

So far as is known here, Smith had no living close relatives except a brother. He was unmarried and made his home here at the Hotel White Cotton.

Smith's coaching engagement at the University of California began in 1916 but it was not until 1920 that he had laid the ground work for a team which went through five years without a defeat.

The Golden Bears eleven of 1920-21-22-23 and 24 were unbeaten. Even though this year's team lost to Washington, Stanford and the Olympic club, Smith's popularity was unaffected. He made no excuses and went ahead planning a comeback next year. Just a few weeks ago, after he went east, he accepted by wire a four-year extension of his contract.

Smith graduated from a high school in Dubois, Pa., and registered at Pennsylvania State university, where he played fullback in 1901 and 1902. The next year he transferred to the University of Pennsylvania and played on eleven from that institution in 1903 and 1904. It was in these two years that he won national football fame by being selected on Walter Camp's mythical All-American teams.

Smith studied chemistry in college, but abandoned the science after leaving the university and started selling real estate. He was called from his real estate business in 1905 to coach the Pennsylvania freshman team and carried on this work also in 1906. Then he was made varsity backfield coach until 1909, when he was appointed Pennsylvania's head coach. He continued in that position until 1913 when he went to Purdue University

JONES TO LEAD AMERICAN GOLF SQUAD ABROAD

By HENRY L. FARRELL
(United Press Staff Correspondent)

NEW YORK, Jan. 8.—American golf is planning an invasion of Europe this summer as formidable as that which already has been arranged by the tennis association.

Bobby Jones, the greatest amateur player in this country and perhaps in the world, will lead a team of eight stars to St. Andrews, where they will play a British amateur team for the Walker cup on June 2 and 3.

The team has not been selected in entirety by the golf association, but it is almost certain that Francis Guimmet, Jess Sweetser and Jess Guilford will be invited to make the trip.

While no definite plans have been announced, it is understood that the association would like to

L. A. GOLFERS IN QUALIFYING ROUNDS TODAY

LOS ANGELES COUNTRY CLUB LOS ANGELES, Calif., Jan. 8.—Golfers of national repute gathered here today and started the golf classic of the west, the Los Angeles $10,000 open.

Each golfer will play 18 holes today. Half the entries started on the south course with a par of 70 while the other half went out on the north course with a par of 72. Tomorrow those who played the south course today will have their workout on the north course and those who play the north course today will try the south. This will even the difference between the two courses.

Scores made today and tomorrow will be added and the lowest 64 and ties will be eligible for the final 36 holes for the championship Sunday.

Over 250 golfers teed off today. All the professionals had hopes of winning a part of the big prize money while the amateurs will be content with the silver cups which will be awarded the winners in their class.

In virtually every case the favorites did not start until noon or later. It takes two and a half hours to negotiate the courses, which would indicate the low scores of the day will not be turned in until mid-afternoon and later.

Eastern golfers continue as favorites when the tourney started. They include MacDonald Smith, a veteran from New York, Al Espinosa, Chicago; John Black, Wichita, Kansas; Joe Kirkwood, New York; Bill Melhorn, Chicago; Larry Nabholz, Cleveland; Joe Turnesa, New York and Al Watrous, Grand Rapids, Michigan.

The solid South, which sent the Alabama football team to Southern California to defeat Washington champions of the Pacific coast, is represented by a number of well-known golfers. Among them are Harry Cooper, Dallas, Texas; Bobby Crickshank, Oklahoma City; Bill Creevy, Oklahoma City; Tom Lally of San Antonio and Joe Lally of Dallas, Texas.

Mortie and Olin Dutra, Aberdeen, Wash.; Jack Hart, Fresno; John Junor, Portland; Joe Novak, Berkeley, Calif.; Harold Sampson, Burlingame, Calif.; and Mel Smith, Portland appear to be the best golfers from the Pacific Northwest and northern California.

Chicago May Get Army-Navy Match

WASHINGTON, Jan. 8.—A proposal that the Army-Navy football game next fall be played in Chicago was taken up here today at a conference by Rear Admiral Louis Multon, Naval academy superintendent, Commander Byron McCandless, Academy athletic officer, and officials of the bureau of navigation at the Naval Athletic association.

The offer made by Chicago for the classic was characterized by the navy men as "very attractive" and it was believed likely the deal would be consummated.

Fitzke, Reed Join Anti-Grange Team

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 8.—Professional football had two more followers here today, following announcement that Dick Reed, captain and end of the University of Oregon 1924 team, and Bob Fitzke, halfback on the University of Idaho 1923 eleven, had signed for the local eleven.

The San Francisco professional team will play "Red" Grange and the Chicago Bears here January 24.

ANDY SMITH

Death today took Andrew L. (Andy) Smith, noted football coach of the University of California. Smith, ill for several weeks but apparently recovering from pneumonia, suffered a relapse last night at the University of Pennsylvania hospital, Philadelphia, and died early this morning.

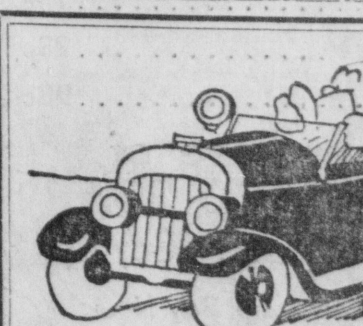

Smith was 43 years old and was a native of Dubois, Pa. He first attended Penn State, where he played fullback on the varsity team in 1901. He then transferred to Pennsylvania, where he starred in 1903 and 1904, being named on the All-American team in the latter year. He graduated from the university in 1905 and was appointed coach of the freshman football squad the following autumn. In 1907 he coached the Germantown academy team here and was named head coach at Penn in 1909, succeeding Sol Metzger. He remained as head coach through 1912 and in 1913 went to Purdue, which team he directed for three seasons.

He accepted an offer from the University of California in 1916 and for several years turned out "unbeatable" teams. Penn had a taste of his former star's coaching skill when her champion 1924 team journeyed to the Pacific coast and on New Year's day, 1925, swallowed a 14 to 0 defeat from Smith's pupils in the Berkeley stadium.

Smith's brother, Richard M. Smith of Kansas City, was on his way here today to take charge of the body. He was wired for last night by Holbrook when the sick man's condition became alarmingly bad. He was expected in Philadelphia late tonight.

While details of the funeral had not been announced, it was said by persons close to Smith that he would not be buried at Dubois, Pa. Definite arrangements will be made following the arrival of the brother. Smith was recognized as one of the leading football coaches of the west. Going to California in 1914 when the Blue and Gold football fortunes were low, by 1915 he was developing powerful teams and by

BEARS STUNNED AS GREAT COACH DEAD

In similar capacity, and coached at Purdue for three years, coming to the University of California as head coach in 1916, the year after rugby was abandoned by the coast college. Mourning on the campus for Smith was general and statements from university and student officials indicated in what high regard the coach was held.

"It is a tremendous shock to me and one that I can't realize," said Luther Nichols, graduate manager. "Andy and I were very close friends and under the circumstances it is hard for me to express my feelings. In the passing of Andy Smith the university has suffered a loss that can't be replaced."

"I've lost one of my best friends," was the comment of Raymond Cortelyou, graduate athletic manager. "The University of California has lost a great man in the death of Andy Smith. The university is going to miss him greatly. He was a man of fine character and a true sportsman. He had the university at heart at all times and was absolutely honest and sincere in all that he did for California. This is all outside of his coaching ability; that speaks for itself."

"It was with great regret that I learned this morning of Andy Smith's death," said Brenton Metzler, president of the associated students. "We all expected him to pull through and return here in a few weeks, but it was evidently not to be. His death causes California to lose one of the best coaches she ever had and one who in my opinion had a record of victories and clear sportsmanship that has never before been equaled."

Sangor and Snell Ring Foes Tonight

HOLLYWOOD, Cal., Jan. 8.—Joey Sangor, Milwaukee featherweight, will make his second start in California when he meets "Doc" Snell, Pacific northwest scrapper, in a 10 round bout here tonight.

When "Doc" Snell enters the ring he will be announced as William McEachern. The new ruling of the state athletic commission which makes fighters use their right names is beginning to show results.

Seals Buy Spring Training Grounds

BOYES SPRINGS, Cal., Jan. 8.—Purchase of property to be used as a permanent training camp by the San Francisco club of the Pacific Coast league was revealed here today.

Alfred Putnam, secretary of the Seals, bought for $25,000 the new Boyes Springs postoffice building and two adjoining tracts of land on the Valley of the Moon highway, according to Jack Murray, local constable who arranged the deal.

Giants' Vanguard Heads for Florida

NEW YORK, Jan. 8.—The first squad of the New York Giants, which includes the pitchers and catchers, will leave for Sarasota, Fla., for the spring practice season on February 18, it was announced today.

The infielders and outfielders were ordered to report for duty on March 1. The Giants' first exhibition game will be played with the Phillies at Sarasota on March 11, it was said.

SHORT SPORTS

NEW YORK—Rumors of an impending deal between the New York Giants and the Cincinnati Reds attended the sudden return of Manager John McGraw from Florida. It was reported that the Giants were to get Eddie Roush for Bill Terry and another player.

NEW YORK—Seven inches slither around the waist and boiled down to 21 pounds, Babe Ruth is getting ready to go south for a month of golf before spring training season opens. "I only if my eyes are good and my legs are strong and I don't see why I haven't a lot of good baseball left in me," the Babe said.

NEW YORK—Charles Hoff, Norway, world's pole vault record holder and Europe's greatest all-around athlete, arrived here today accompanied by his wife. He will engage in a number of indoor meets after training at Dartmouth university.

CHICAGO—"Red" Grange, the football financier, has been sued for $10,000 by A. H. Schatz, a theatrical manager, here. Schatz alleges that "Red" Grange was to have gone on the stage under his management for a 25-week vaudeville tour but changed his mind in favor of professional football.

send a number of young stars to England to give them the chance to play on the world's most famous course and prepare them for future defense of the cup.

The Tennis association, building for the future safety of the Classic Davis cup, is following the policy of recognizing the new generation of players and the wisdom of the policy also is applicable to golf.

Bobby Jones, as well as the other members of the Walker cup team, will play also in the British amateur championship and his game will be secondary in international interests only to the prospective tennis championship matches between Mlle Suzanne Lenglen, the French star and Miss Helen Wills, the American champion.

ANDY SMITH, FAMED U. C. MENTOR, DEAD

1921 turned out the first of the so-called "wonder teams," none of which was defeated from that time until they left before Washington and Stanford during the season just closed.

Dan MacMillan, "Dummy" Wells, "Brick" Muller, Bob Berkeley, "Brodie" Stevens, Don Nichols, "Crip" Toomey, "Duke" Morrison and a host of other football immortals of the west coast owe to him a large share of their claims to glory.

When he came east this year '14 was rumored for a time that he would join the coaching staff of some Eastern University, deserting California, but no such arrangement was made. A few weeks ago he accepted terms for a long-time contract with the Bears.

HARBOR LOOP TEAM, END SEASON SUNDAY

league managers, the dove of peace floated over the hot-heads and there was nothing but the best of feeling between the rival factions.

The league, by a margin of 4 to 3, voted to sustain the Van Dien-Young company whose victory over Cypress was protested on the ground that Jack White, the Trucker pitcher, was at the time under contract to the St. Louis Browns and therefore automatically ineligible to compete in league contests. The league interpreted the Harbor league rule to mean that players who sign contracts to play at some future date with a professional team should not be disqualified.

The protest was filed by the Shields Paint company, Tustin and Westminster and it proved a boom-erang for the Shields team which lost the game it won over Costa Mesa November 29. The Painters used ineligible players, it was brought out. The Cypress-Costa Mesa game also was given to Costa Mesa for the same reason.

Golden Wedding Present Asked From Governor

SACRAMENTO, Jan. 8.—Fifty years of wedded life ought to be accorded gubernatorial recognition. Mr. and Mrs. E. F. Brown, colored, of San Diego, believe. So they wrote Gov. Friend W. Richardson and asked him if he wouldn't like to contribute.

"At least a hundred white folks attended our Golden wedding and we got quite a few presents, and they said it was one of the grandest things ever pulled off here," says a letter received at the governor's office. "If you would like to give us a little present we sure would appreciate it very much."

Rockne Now Of Catholic Faith

SOUTH BEND, Ind., Jan. 8.—Knute K. Rockne, coach of Notre Dame's football team, joined the Catholic church November 20, it was stated today at the university. Rockne made no mention of his joining the church at the time because "he considered his religion his own personal affair," according to the statement.

FRATERNAL NEWS

Calumpit Camp

Installation of officers for 1926 was the principal order of business with Calumpit camp, No. 26, Department of California, United Spanish War Veterans, and its auxiliary, last Tuesday night.

The principal event of note was a visit of the department commander, the department president and other department and camp officers.

A joint installation of the camp and auxiliary took place. Commanders E. E. Greene, of Admiral Glass camp, No. 36, assisted by Commander-elect T. C. Macklin, of the same camp, installed the following officers: Commander, Marjorie C. Cooper; senior vice commander, Charles W. Kincaid; Rowe; adjutant, Charles E. Dixon; quarter-master, John W. Kelsey; officer of the guard, A. W. Mollica; trustee, C. J. Christensen; chaplain, J. C. Farrar; quartermaster, Alfred F. Moulton; quartermaster sergeant, Milton R. Kellogg; color sergeant, Charles W. Winter, and musician, George V. Area. A few of the prospective officers were absent and will be installed at a later date.

Josephine Galbraith, "mother" of the auxiliary, proceeded to install the auxiliary officers. The new officers are: President, Bertha E. Dugdale; senior vice president, Jean Tantlinger; junior vice president, May Glaze; chaplain, Emma K. Wassum; secretary, Bertha N. Dixon; treasurer, Josephine Farrar; conductress, Beulah Deaver; assistant guard, Josephine Mollica; historian, Elva Hunt; patriotic instructor, Myrtle Waffle; musician, Mabel Tucker; first color, Minnie Johnson; second color, Sarah Boden; third color, Lena Wheeler, and fourth color, Matilda Mossman.

At the close of each installation, past officer badges were presented to the retiring commander, Walter W. Tantlinger, and the retiring president, Nannie H. Reed. Department Commander Roberts presented the past commander's badge and Josephine Galbraith pinned the badge on Mrs. Reed.

Among the many visitors were: Department Commander Coral F. Roberts of Bakersfield; Department President Lizzie Crapo, of Long Beach; Department Junior Vice Commander E. Meroy Savary, of Los Angeles; Department Chief of Staff A. C. Munson, of Los Angeles; Josephine Galbraith, past department president, Auxiliary Veterans of Foreign Wars; Commander-elect Macklin, of Admiral Glass camp, No. 36, Los Angeles; Past Commanders C. E. Le Fevre and C. R. Judd, of Roosevelt camp, No. 9, Los Angeles; Jake Sonnenberg, Gu Gu Grandissimo-elect, of the Military Order of the Serpents, Catacataca Panuelo Lafr No. 4, of Los Angeles; Commodore T. C. Throckmorton, of McKinley camp, No. 23, of Long Beach, and C. W. W. of Hollywood; Past President Brown and Mrs. Throckmorton, of McKinley auxiliary, Long Beach; Clara Sonnenberg, senior vice commander, Roosevelt auxiliary, Los Angeles; Sisters Edna Judd and Mrs. W. T. Bailey, of the same auxiliary; Sisters Hilda Macklin and Berchold, of Admiral Glass auxiliary, Los Angeles; Mrs. C. F. Roberts, of Bakersfield, wife of the department commander; and Mrs. C. W. Hannah, of Hollywood auxiliary.

The junior past president and the newly-installed president of the auxiliary were the recipients of presents and many bouquets. Mrs. Reed was presented with a beautiful string of pearls.

After the installations, the audience adjourned to the banquet hall, where ice cream, cake and coffee were served.

Department Commander Roberts commended the camp on the progress it made during 1925 and Department President Crapo declared the auxiliary to be one of the best in California.

In giving her yearly report, President Nannie H. Reed called attention to a gain of 32 members, of which she gave Bertha N. Dixon credit for securing 23. This gave Mrs. Dixon first place in the Department of California and fourth place in the United States.

Hermosa O. E. S.
Hermosa chapter, No. 105, Santa Ana chapter, No. 389, Seaside chapter, No. 259, of Huntington Beach, and Chipsea chapter, No. 151, of Anaheim, Order of the Eastern Star, will hold a joint meeting at the Santa Ana temple the evening of January 18 on the occasion of the visit to this city of Grand Worthy Matron Cora Spring Holland, of Los Angeles, and Grand Worthy Patron Waldo Postel, of San Francisco.

The four chapters will combine in filling the chairs for initiation work that evening.

The officers of Hermosa chapter are as follows: Genevieve Lacy, worthy matron; J. E. Paul, worthy patron; Hattie E. Doty, associate matron; Nell D. Winslow, secretary; Nona H. Cloyes, conductress; Jeanette Tarpley, associate conductress. Initiation was held January 4, preceded by a pot-luck luncheon.

Silver Cord Lodge
A special meeting to confer the first degree has been called for Tuesday evening, January 12, by Charles H. McCausland, worthy master. The meeting will be in charge of Owen A. Murray, junior warden. The third degree will be conferred Tuesday evening, January 26, the meeting to begin at 7:30 o'clock. Worthy Master Charles H. McCausland has announced the following committees for 1926: Entertainment, Biny C. Chapman, chairman; food, Harry Baade, chairman; coaching, Edgar Wild, chairman; Homer W. Wing, Richard G. Miller, Richard Peterson, B. C. Chapman, Charles H. Dahlem Jr., organist; Harry Garstang; auditing, Victor T. Hawk, chairman; Nat H. Neff, L. Fred Wild, Edith Herbert, L. Miller, chairman; Roy M. Fortier, Roy V. Adkins; Boy Scout, Asa Hoffman, chairman; Henry Walters, Herbert N. Allerman; scoutmaster, L. E. Rorman.

Knights of Pythias

New officers were installed Wednesday by Santa Ana lodge, Knights of Pythias. The affair was open and informal and a large number of knights, visiting knights and Pythian Sisters were present. Peter Isherwood, master of work of the Santa Ana lodge, acted as installing officer.

The installation ceremonies were interspersed with musical numbers. Mrs. Ruth Madeline, mezzo-soprano, was given much applause for her selections. Miss Pearl Lewis and Eddie Jones played a steel guitar duet. Eddie Jones offered a number on the musical saw. Ted Griggs, Jack Rose and Arthur Derby gave a vocal trio number. Griggs offered two numbers, parodies on popular songs, accompanied on the steel guitar by Eddie Jones.

As retiring chancellor commander, Edward W. Cochems was presented with a beautiful gold watch, fittingly engraved with the lodge emblem. The watch was presented to Cochems by the officers and members of the lodge in appreciation of his efforts in the growth of the order. He also was presented with a past chancellor's jewel and a beautiful basket of flowers. The new chancellor commander, Paul G. Reid, made the presentation address. Cochems responded with short speech, in which he expressed his deep appreciation of the token of esteem.

Following the ceremonies, dancing was enjoyed.

Native Sons

A. V. Mayrofer, deputy grand president, Native Sons of the Golden West, who acts as organizer of new lodges, is in Santa Ana to form a lodge of the order. He is making his headquarters at the Hotel Finley. He is authority for the following statement:

"Members of the Order of Native Sons of the Golden West are banded together to render service to the state, the nation and to humanity, and, incidentally, it is the only fraternity in existence whose membership is made up exclusively of white, native-born Californians."

"Leagued together to advance the interests of the commonwealth, the Native Sons of the Golden West are pledged to keep intact the Paradise of the Pacific for the white man and thwart the efforts of Asiatics to control her destiny. Perhaps no other organization or body of citizens was more active in the passing of the recent alien land laws than the Native Sons of the Golden West. Founded by Gen. A. M. Winn, a California pioneer from Kentucky, the order has grown from a handful of faithful sons into an order of nearly 300 subordinate parliors, with a membership of 30,000 and assets of a million dollars."

"In addition to taking an active part in the restoration of the California missions, the Native Sons of California have done more than any other body of men to preserve the historic Spanish names for which this state is renowned the world over. The bell signposts that mark the way along El Camino Real were sponsored by the Native Sons, as was legislation creating the California Historical Survey commission for historical research in every county seat in the state."

"Established in loyalty and born under the Stars and Stripes, the order should have the support of every native-born Californian. Every native-born male of the age of 18 years, or upward, who is in good health, whose character is above reproach and who believes in the Supreme Being is eligible to join."

Six more members were added to the roll of Santa Ana parlor, No. 235, Native Daughters of the Golden West, Monday night. The meeting, held in Knights of Columbus hall, called out a large number of interested members.

The officers, carrying out the work for the first time, under the leadership of Mrs. Louise Grouard Mock, the president, were given many compliments.

The meetings were permanently set for the first and third Monday nights of the month at 7:30 o'clock, in Knights of Columbus hall. The officers will meet at the hall next Monday night for practice.

It was decided to keep an historical scrap book, which will be presented to the parlor by the president, each member being asked to contribute something of interest, which can be handed down to posterity.

Mrs. Cora Huntington Ross read an account of the planting of the pepper trees on South Symamore street by Mrs. Maria Hill, Santa Ana pioneer. The parlor hopes to make one of the trees a landmark by having parking placed about it.

The parlor will immediately take up the work for homeless children, places for whom are maintained in Los Angeles and San Francisco, where the little ones are kept until suitable homes are found for them.

It was announced that 300 have been made happy in childless homes under the direction of the daughters.

The next regular meeting will be held in Knights of Columbus hall on January 18.

Frat Brotherhood
Santa Ana Lodge, No. 20, of the Fraternal Brotherhood, whose regular meeting fell on New Year's eve, took advantage of the occasion to have a jolly watch party, following the business session.

The meeting was largely attended, and four new members, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Tucker, William Jackson and Ben Christensen, were received into the lodge.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Marsile and Mr. and Mrs. P. A. Trickey were the members of the committee which prepared a midnight supper in the dining room. With dancing and merrymaking, old 1925 was ushered out and 1926 greeted, the members making good wishes for the prosperity of the order during the coming year.

De Molay

New officers of the Santa Ana chapter, Order of DeMolay, will be installed with impressive ceremonies at 7:30 o'clock tomorrow evening, in the Masonic temple.

At that time, the quarterly term will close and the recently-elected officers will take over the direction of the chapter. James Greely will turn over the gavel of master counselor to Alfred Ault.

Twenty-one members will be installed in their offices. The elective officers are Alfred Ault, master counselor; Virgil Reed, senior counselor; Jack Taylor, junior counselor; Cecil Edwards, scribe; and James Trew, treasurer.

Other who hold appointive positions are Richard Knight, senior deacon; George Preble, junior deacon; Henry Powell, senior steward; Gorham Smith, junior steward; Louis Dixon, chaplain; Charles Webber, marshal; Charles Searles, almoner; Russell Byler, standard bearer; Julius Yale, sentinel.

The seven preceptors in their order are Truman Basham, Robert Perrin, Malcolm Isaacson, Evan Evans, Clayton Lowell, John Sylvester and Leland Mitchell.

Arrangements for a DeMolay dance late in January will be carried out in the plans for the new term. Other matters before the chapter will be considered in the business session.

The invitation of the Santa Ana Masonic lodge, No. 241, to present the DeMolay degree at its meeting tonight in the Masonic temple, was accepted by the DeMolay chapter. Those who take part in giving the degree are Valmer Clark, Roy De Mars, George Wilson, Lloyd Redmond, George Walker and Jack Taylor.

Santa Ana O. E. S.

The Bridge club of the Santa chapter, O. E. S., will meet with Mrs. Nellie Sylvester, 428 West Santa Clara avenue, January 12. Election of officers will be held at this meeting. All members of Santa Ana chapter are eligible to membership in the bridge club.

The following committees to serve for 1926 have been appointed by Mrs. Elizabeth Jernigan, worthy matron:

Auditing, William Dean, Asa Hoffman, Charles L. Pritchard and William Sylvester; examining committee, Ada Walters, Rose Smith, Harry Roberts; visiting committee, Amelia Prather, Nellie Sylvester, Ethel Cahill, Sadie Roehm, Louise Mock, Ruby Greely, Mae Hoffman, Pearl Lyceon; reception committee, past matrons and patrons and all the officers for 1926; in charge of lights, George Wheeler, Roland Kloess and Elmer Smith.

Neighbors of Woodcraft
The Neighbors of Woodcraft held a business meeting in the M. W. A. hall Monday, January 4. Arrangements were made for a trip to Ontario January 12 for the installation. The past guardian neighbor, Metta McBride and past clerk, Isabelle Gipsen, were presented with emblems of their office. After the meeting closed, a collection was taken up and refreshments were served. All Neighbors wishing to make the trip to Ontario are asked to call 2038-J or 47-M and to be at the M. W. A. hall Tuesday, ready to leave at 6 p. m.

Orange Co. Masonic Club

A meeting of the Orange County Masonic club will be held the evening of January 26 at Masonic temple, Orange, beginning with dinner at 6:30 o'clock. The speaker of the evening will be the Rev. Fraser Langford, of Fullerton. Officers of the club are W. L. Duggan, president; E. H. Matcalf, vice president; George Jackson, secretary-treasurer.

F. and A. M.

Santa Ana lodge, No. 241, F. and A. M., will sponsor an evening of cards and dancing for all Masons and their wives, Friday, January 22. Practice in degree work will be held Friday evening, January 15. The lodge meets every Friday evening. The following named are the officers: Charles V. Doty, worthy master; H. M. Sammis, senior warden; R. G. Hewitt, junior warden; Ralph Mead, secretary; A. F. Hill, senior deacon; F. B. Browning, junior deacon.

Master Charles V. Doty has announced appointment of the following committees:

Finance, Marshal Keeler, chairman, A. H. T. Taylor, J. L. Bascom; social, Carl Mock, chairman, Joe Smith, Burt Sutton; funeral, Felton Browning, chairman, Albert Hill; coaching, Elmer S. Hines, chairman; Boy Scout, Verne Whitson, chairman, Roscoe Hewitt.

Imagine a carton of nearly three pounds of fresh crisp Petite Wafers—the special price of 47c! Enough for thorough enjoyment of them by everyone. With soup—with cheese—with salad; yes, even taking the place of lady fingers with Charlotte Russe. Toasted and buttered for afternoon tea—with marmalade. Innumerable ways of pleasing the palate—offered by these petite crispy wafers.

The open jar of honey and mother's absence have contributed to Margaret's undoing; the combination too strong to resist, and in consequence—she has anointed herself internally and externally with honey—which she dearly loves. The wonder is that mothers make so little effort to divert the youngster's natural craving for sweets to nature's own best sweetener, honey. Men and women—who have been cautioned to go slow on the use of sugar—might well adopt honey for waffles, pancakes, corn fritters, breakfast foods—yes, even a sweetener for coffee.

The quart jar—offered special at 53c. It might be well to remember that this is pure honey—extracted by merely separating from the comb. Quite different from the cheaper—quicker process of crushing both comb and honey and then straining—

For supplying its 325 stores, Safeway must buy in amazingly large quantities. The paper mill that supplies toilet tissue finds its surest way of continuing in the enjoyment of that large business—is to supply something better in quality and price than customary.

Sable brand, at 3 rolls for 25c has been an outstanding value. Now, at the special of 3 rolls for 21c—there's added incentive to lay in a supply. By the way—it comes all ready wrapped—3 rolls to the plain package. Just say "A package of Sable, please."

Power in your body is the only thing that keeps you from getting well. Release this power, sickness disappears and you get well. To regain your health through our work is not a probability—it is an absolute possibility. While our work is new to many, the principles we employ are the oldest on earth. Thousands of sick people have gotten completely well through Palmer K-Ray Chiropractic. Thousands at present are getting well through this same work. Why not you? To investigate costs you nothing and offers you so much, your health.

When you go to a Chiropractic insist that an X-Ray be taken so the work given you will be specific, as it is foolish to rely upon guesswork and when your body and health are at stake. Come to our office, we will gladly take an X-Ray of your spine, bearing your name and explain the exact cause of your trouble in detail. This is free and is only to show you how to get well the pleasant, easy way. You have had enough guesswork; now learn the facts as only an X-Ray will show them.

Fraternal Aid Union

The Fraternal Aid union met for the regular session in the M. W. A. hall Friday evening. The president, Mrs. Frank Harris, was in the chair. Arrangements were made for the installation of the new officers at the meeting of January 15. A pot-luck supper will be held at 6:30 p. m. The installation ceremony, which is in charge of J. W. Johnson, will be open to the public. At the close of the last meeting, a cafeteria luncheon was served and games were enjoyed until a late hour.

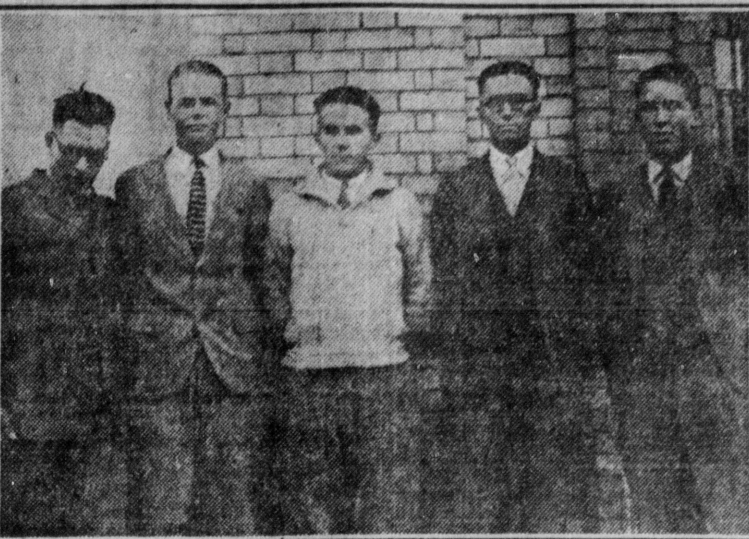

Damascus Shrine Club

Supreme officers from every shrine in Southern California will be in charge of the ceremonial January 20. Six more members have been added to the large class to be initiated at that time.

The meeting this week in El Camino hall was most enjoyable for the members of the White Shrine. The brothers were in charge and almost the entire membership was on hand to enjoy their hospitality. A banquet was served, following which there was dancing. The beautiful copper coffee urn, the Christmas gift of Mrs. Mary P. Mathews, was used for the first time.

It was found that the robe fund had grown to a sufficient amount to name a committee to select more robes to add to the shrine's increasing regalia. Mrs. Henrietta Roberts has a committee at work on plans for the ceremonial, January 20. The program will start at 6:30 o'clock with a chicken dinner. Members have been requested to wear white. Another big lodge event will be held February 24, when Damascus shrine will join with the Fullerton shrine in receiving Supreme Worthy High Priestess Lulu Belle Carroll of Chicago. A large class from Santa Ana will be initiated at that time by Damascus shrine in the Masonic temple at Fullerton.

Neal Beisel, second musician of the shrine, will not soon forget his birthday anniversary, which falls upon New Year's day. The members of the shrine, not being quite sure whether he was an old baby or a new baby, thought to call about midnight to help him watch the old year out and the new year in. However, they found he was at Tustin doing the same thing, so they gave him a New Year's call. He had retired, but soon found himself in the arms of his fellow lodge members, and after being fondled, petted and paddled, with one to grow on, he was presented with a gold-mounted fountain pen.

Laurel Encampment

The corps of new officers of Laurel encampment, No. 81, who Monday night impressively installed in Odd Fellows' hall by District Deputy H. B. Handy, of Orange, assisted by a staff of past chief patriarchs. The officers were C. D. Anderson, grand marshal; M. J. McCurdy, grand high priest; George E. Peters, grand scribe; John Theisenhusen, grand scribe; O. M. Somerville, grand treasurer; John W. Crawford, grand financial scribe; W. J. Morrison, grand inside guardian, and W. W. Chandler, grand outside guardian.

The new officers who will guide the commandery for the coming term are D. W. C. Dimock, chief patriarch; H. H. Ahrens, high priest; F. G. Hart, senior warden; E. F. White, scribe; John W. Crawford, treasurer; H. A. Gallienne, junior warden; O. M. Somerville, financial scribe; R. W. Dunning, guide; John Theisenhusen, first watch; H. L. Lawson, second watch; D. G. Lytle, third watch; Almer Erickson, fourth watch; Joseph Provost sr., first guard of the tent; John J. Deavers, second guard of the tent; F. E. Bister, inside sentinel, and C. D. Henderson, outside sentinel.

Following the ceremonies, a supper was served in the dining room, where interesting talks were made, the speakers including C. A. Palmer, deputy grand master, and "Cooney" Mauerhan, formerly of Anaheim, but now of Woodland, who is visiting here.

A large number of Odd Fellows will go to Westminster tomorrow night and witness the installation of officers there by F. G. Hart, district deputy grand master for subordinate lodges.

Royal Arch Masons

New officers of Santa Ana chapter, No. 73, R. A. M., will be installed the evening of January 28, as follows: Wallar L. Kaufmann, high priest; Asa Hoffman, king; Charles McCausland, scribe; Robert Speed, principal sojourner; John P. Williams, Royal Arch captain; W. E. McBay, master of third veil; M. A. Moore, master of second veil; Joseph A. Daninger, master of first veil; R. J. White, sentinel; E. B. Smith, treasurer; W. W. Clevenger, secretary. The meeting will be closed.

Work in the master degree will be conferred Thursday evening, January 21. Work in the past and most excellent master degree will be conferred January 28.

The officers of Orange Grove chapter, No. 99, R. A. M., were installed Tuesday evening, January 5. W. L. Duggan, past high priest of Santa Ana chapter, acted as installing officer for the ninth consecutive year, and H. D. Nichols, past high priest of Orange Grove chapter, served as marshal.

The following named officers were installed: Nelson Stafford, high priest; George W. Burmaster, king; E. W. Kolkhorst, scribe; E. C. Robertson, treasurer; W. S. Gress, secretary; Ross Folger, chaplain; W. J. Richardson, captain of host; Joe Rowley, principal sojourner; C. H. The O. E. S. Social club is sponsoring a dance in the Masonic hall tonight.

The local Brotherhood is giving a supper tonight in the basement of the Methodist church.

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Pickering are spending this week in Sutter county shooting wild geese, reported as quite plentiful in that vicinity.

Mrs. S. S. Collins began her new duties as kindergarten teacher in the local schools on Monday.

At this week's meeting of the local P. T. A., one of the most interesting items on the program was a fashion show, staged by the girls of the seventh and eighth grade, who appeared wearing pretty little dresses which they had made in sewing class.

Judge Thomas To Speak At Installation

HUNTINGTON BEACH, Jan. 8.—Judge W. H. Thomas, of Santa Ana, will be the speaker of the evening at the public installation of officers of the Masonic lodge here, January 13.

E. B. Trago, another Santa Ana man, is to be master of ceremonies at the installation. A general invitation has been extended the public to attend, and preparations are being made for a large attendance.

CHAPTER, BLUE LODGE HEADS ARE INDUCTED

ORANGE, Jan. 8.—An impressive installation ceremony was held Tuesday evening in the Masonic temple by the Royal Arch chapter of Masons and the blue lodge.

W. L. Dugan, who for the past nine years has acted as installing officer for the chapter, again acted in that capacity.

J. A. King, retiring master of the blue lodge, was master of ceremonies for that organization, while E. B. Trago, of Santa Ana, acted as installing officer. Following the ceremonies, King was presented with a ring bearing the Masonic emblems to the 32nd degree. W. J. Feidner presented the ring.

The following officers were installed for the Royal Arch chapter: High priest, Nelson Stafford; king, George Burmaster; scribe, Emil Kolhorst; treasurer, F. C. Robertson; secretary, W. S. Gregg; captain of host, W. J. Richardson; principal sejourner, Joe Rowley; Royal Arch captain, C. H. Robinson; master of the third veil, Charles Meadows; master of the second veil, Joe Leake; master of the first veil, R. C. Bunch, and sentinel, Thomas Moran.

REALTY BOARD AT BEACH WILL WORK FOR LAND

HUNTINGTON BEACH, Jan. 8.—The promotion of plans by which the city may acquire water bearing land and land for use as industrial sites will be undertaken by the local realty board during the coming months, according to a plan outlined at the meeting of the organization yesterday. C. P. Patton, president of the realtors' organization, brought the matter before the members for the second time and urged that the organization get behind the project.

"We want to have something at hand to show to the prospective manufacturer," Patton declared, in urging the acquisition of land for an industrial section. Patton predicted that within the next two years, a small manufacturing center would be started in this city. The importance of securing water bearing land upon which the city depend in case the water system now in use fails was stressed at the meeting.

A special committee has been appointed by the realty board to investigate the location and price of land in various portions of the city which they think desirable for water and industrial purposes. Following the approval of the findings of the committee, it is expected that a recommendation will be made to the city to acquire land.

Local realtors yesterday started the year with a 100 per cent paid up membership in the local, state and national organizations, according to Patton.

DIRECTOR OF EXPERIMENT STATION TO GIVE ADDRESS AT FULLERTON GATHERING

FULLERTON, Jan. 8.—Dr. W. H. Webber, director of the citrus experiment station at Riverside, will address stockholders of the Placentia Growers' association at their annual meeting, which will be held Saturday at the Fullerton union high school auditorium. The morning session will convene at 10 o'clock, and will be featured by election of officers. E. D. Lang, president of the association, will preside.

A noon luncheon will be served at the Masonic temple, and in the afternoon, Dr. Webber will give an account of his experiences and observations during the past year, which he spent in investigation of the citrus district in South Africa, as an agent for the British government.

In his annual report, which he will present to the stockholders on Saturday, J. A. Prizer, secretary-manager of the association states that total gross receipts of the association for 1925 were $1,709,549.89. The total payroll of all ranches in the association, including pickers, fumigators, etc., was $154,904.19. The association returned to its growers, a total of $1,391,952.81 in cash and $71,655.14 in stock and a refund of $15,558.49 or a total of $1,478,161.44 for the shipment of 350,648 1-2 boxes of fruit. These shipments included 57,650 boxes of navel, 77,096 1-2 boxes of St. Michaels; 2,577 boxes of sweets, 1,539 boxes of grapefruit and 231,786 boxes of valencias. The output is about 61 per cent of the 1924 crop.

According to Mr. Prizer, the valencia shipments during the past year fell far below those of 1924. This decrease was not entirely due to frost injury, he says, since considerable drop had taken place in certain groves in December of 1924, due to severe winds and the "set" itself had not been more than fair. The total number of packed boxes of valencias in 1925 was 281,672, as compared with 648,075 in 1924.

For, be the duty high as angel's flight,
Fulfill it, and a higher will arise,
E'en from its ashes, Duty is infinite,
Receding as the skies.

NEW STORE FRONTS

Everybody interested in making Santa Ana a better Santa Ana gets satisfaction over the remodeling of an old building. A new store front is not only something worth while for the owner of the property and the occupant of the building but is also something worth while for the street and the city as a whole.

We have in mind a number of communities in Southern California in which new buildings on a main street are interspersed with shabby structures, hold-overs from by-gone days. Santa Ana, in the past six or eight years, has made many changes by which old fronts have been made over into attractive show windows and store entrances, but there are still numerous buildings that need immediate attention. The East Side Improvement association, one of Santa Ana's newest and most active civic organizations, has been successful in getting steps under way for quite a number of changes on Fourth street east of Main. This association is making its existence well worth while.

There are a good many slogans that might be adopted for Santa Ana's program for 1928. Here's one: Get rid of shabby building fronts.

INFLATED CREDIT

The annual report of the Secretary of the Treasury tells the public that "most of the factors underlying the present business situation are apparently sound and warrant optimism for the future." But this assurance is coupled with a warning.

Secretary Mellon refers rather doubtfully to the "tendency for the consuming public to buy every conceivable commodity on time" and hopes that "the speculative tendency in real estate may not proceed to the point of undermining the spirit of caution in business."

These hints are timely. The first particularly deserves attention.

Credit is a mighty valuable and useful institution—so much so that it is a dangerous tool to abuse. It is probably better, on the whole, to do business on a credit basis than a cash basis, because so much more business can be done that way—more goods made and sold and more people kept profitably busy. But there are limits to the usefulness of credit.

Over-inflation of credit among our customers generally, in retail buying as well as in business operation, making very good times for a while, might end suddenly and unexpectedly in bad times, with everybody in the hole.

BUSINESS WITH RUSSIA

Christian Rakovsky, Russian Soviet ambassador to France, is welcomed in Paris without music. The French government refuses to play the "Internationale" for him, at his demand, and does not deign even to play its own "Marseillaise." Resumption of diplomatic relations with Russia is unsentimental. It is purely a matter of business.

France thinks she may profit financially by recognizing Russia, and gets down to business at once. The French President speaks of "undertaking with confidence the settlement of differences still existing between our two countries, the solution of which so keenly interests the French nation. The settlement of these difficulties," he adds, "would open the way to a larger economic collaboration between the two countries."

The point is this: Russia owes France $3,000,000,000, and France wants to settle with her as America wants to settle with France. And if Russia starts paying, France can do business with her as of old.

Russia owes America money, too—about a quarter of a billion dollars, advanced after Russia's republican revolution.

Shenandoah, Ia., has a theater proprietor who deserves commendation. He voluntarily warned patrons away from a movie show because when the feature picture arrived he found it was not so good as the advance notices had indicated.

His nightly patronage averages about 500. When the picture in question was shown, after his statement about it, attendance dropped to 100. It is not known whether the 100 who came had not heard the warning, or whether they thought the show couldn't be much worse than the ordinary run of movies, or whether they were actuated by motives of loyalty to the proprietor.

If every feature picture that failed to come up to advance notices were thus treated, movie patronage would suffer quite a slump. Nevertheless the honest advertiser of this story did a fine thing not only for his fellow-townsmen but for his own future reputation, and even perhaps for the movie industry.

NOISE AND USEFULNESS

An ordinary flash of lightning, with its accompanying thunder, remarks Luther Burbank, can now be produced for about 34 cents. The thunder and lightning are spectacular but not useful. The same amount of electrical energy, efficiently applied, without any noise or fuss, will light a house for two or three days.

"The beneficent, constructive forces of nature," observes Mr. Burbank, "are the result of quiet, persistent growth. The destructive ones are accompanied with much commotion and great noise."

It is likely to be that way in business. Also in politics.

AN ALL-AMERICAN UNION

It begins to look as if Canada were to become a member of the Pan-American Union. The Dominion government was represented at the recent Pan-American Commercial Congress. The 1927 session of that congress is to be held in Canada.

There seems to be a growing feeling that the Union, too, should include all America, instead of leaving out the great nation to the north of the United States.

Canada is more interested in South American trade than in Pan-American politics. But in a truly international relationship, such as the Pan-American Union seeks to build for the western hemisphere, the two things can very well go together. Canada is a part of the British Empire, and intends to remain so, but it is also a great American democracy and might well pay a more important role in the affairs of the two American continents.

Paroling and Pardonng

Riverside Press

The trouble experienced by Governor Richardson in getting returned to prison "Big Hutch," a notorious confidence man who had been paroled after conviction reveals several kinds of weaknesses in our parole system. The first weakness is that of slack inquiry into antecedents on the part of the pardon and parole board. Only a slight inquiry would or should have convinced the members of the board that this man was in no sense entitled to a parole and that the ends of justice would not be served by granting it to him. Another thing revealed is that public officials are too free to back up applications for parole. It is not necessary to charge misconduct and collusion, as the governor has done, to make this statement. The record in this and other cases reveals such a situation. Still another thing this case calls to public attention is that a parole appears to be almost tantamount to a pardon. If it can not be revoked unless some overt illegal act is committed it means perpetual freedom, whether it be for the welfare of the state to revoke it or not.

There have been during the past year a number of instances of bad conduct on the part of convicts out on parole from California prisons, as well as from prisons in other states. They all indicate too much looseness in granting paroles. Such freedom should never be given except in cases where there is practical assurance of the leading of an honest and useful life, such as would be for the welfare of both the state and the convict. Permitting a paroled convict to go beyond the confines of the state, or even of a restricted district within the state, is a violation of the fundamental principle of a parole. That principle requires that the paroled person live continuously within the easy reach and observation of the authorities, that some citizen be held responsible for him and his conduct, and that regular reports of his whereabouts and method of living be made. And whenever any of these things prove to be unsatisfactory the parole should be revoked. None of these requirements were present in the case in point.

Statistics issued by the census bureau show that January 1, 1923, there was a prison population in the United States of 109,819, while January 1, 1910, it was 111,498. This shows a considerable decline in the face of an increase of some 20,000,000 in population. We also know that while this reduction in the number of criminals in jail has been going on there has been a concurrent increase in the total volume of crime. This shows that those who commit crime are not being put in jail in the proportion of former years, or that they are being let out faster, or both. Perhaps there are a lot of "Big Hutch" cases all over the country.

Our Friendless Public

Fresno Republican

No one has yet found any equitable means of protecting the "third parties" to a contract. The courts can look out for the signers to the paper. They can permit others to talk as "friends of the court." The court can listen as sympathetically as it will to the suggestions of its "friends," the amici curiae. But the public has no friends. The rights of the contracting parties go right on being the main quarrel in which we applaud one party or the other and let the "third party" take his chances.

Some of these "third parties" to a dispute are dying. Now, pneumonia, it is stated, has increased remarkably its ravages in those parts of the East where the coal shortage is most felt.

The workmen who live in the coal regions and who know how to work in the coal mines have an entire "right" to refuse to work except as they want to.

The men who own the coal land and the coal shafts and the coal machinery have a right to employ these men or not, as they wish, and not to employ them unless they can make terms that are satisfactory to themselves.

And if these owners and these workmen can agree, they can decide not to mine coal except on terms that only a part of the coal using public can pay, and the rest have the "third party" right to die of pneumonia or whatever illness they may risk.

All this in spite of the fact that there are more workmen than are needed to mine all the coal that is asked. And there are more mines now open to operation than are needed to produce all the requisite coal.

We have been discussing this problem of the "rights" of the public for many years, but we are no nearer to a working solution than before.

Don't imagine that in treating this problem, public ownership or private ownership would make any difference. The right of a workman to refuse to dig coal would be just the same, whether his employer was a company or the government. You can't make profitable slaves of miners, any more than out of cotton pickers.

The struggle between the coal operators and the United Miners is a step in human progress. But in what direction we don't know yet.

HOLIDAYS NO REASON TO GET SICK

During the holiday season there is a widespread tendency to relax those principles of individual and community hygiene which are rather zealously observed at other times. Under the stimulus of pleasant company, diversified entertainment and rich food there are frequent transgressions against the rules of simple living.

Good cheer and abundant food are present on every hand. The habit of keeping late hours may not in itself account for all of the disagreeable after effects such as headaches, drowsiness and downright illness. Unfortunately, many late hours are spent in overheated and ill-ventilated rooms.

That adequate sleep must be secured even during the holidays is a hygienic fact frequently overlooked or neglected, especially by those caring for children. Unnecessary exceptions are made, with the result that the capacity for enjoying subsequent events is greatly reduced.

Exercise during the holidays often is curtailed. This is due sometimes to disinclination to exercise in the cold but more frequently to eagerness to participate in family visits indoors.

Dancing is a form of diversion very popular during the holidays. As a delightful and beneficial exercise dancing is justly popular among its devotees, particularly among the younger celebrants. However, the mistake of dancing for unduly long periods and curtailing sleep should not be made. There should be adequate protection against chilling after the dance or on going into the outside cold.

The mistake of keeping late hours even for excellent radio programs should not be made if it is desired to maintain the accustomed hygienic balance in which plentiful sleep plays so prominent a role.

Because of the variety of conditions which may exert their deleterious influences the holiday season is too frequently accompanied by illness. Many of the indispositions are the results of lowered bodily resistance, occasioned by fatigue, dietary indiscretions, faulty ventilation and improper wearing apparel.

The "Kick"

Beauty in Education

Boston Independent.

Nothing is more vital to our country than a leaven of educated men and women—educated, not in the practical realities, but in the appreciation of general principles, in the understanding of life. We are glib at repeating in high schools and chautauquas, "Beauty Is Truth, Truth Beauty," but many of our leading orators would be sorely tried if called on to expound Keats' doctrine. All order, all harmony, all rightness has some beauty in it. Truth itself is an agreement of one thing with another, a harmony between different things, and in as much as it is harmony it has beauty in it. There is a beauty in the inerrancy of mathematics, in the punctuality of the stars, in the good faith of gentlemen whose word is kept. Almost, one might say that a man who had no feeling for the rightness of beauty could hardly tell the truth or work out a problem in geometry or build an honest building.

If at the core and center of our life lies that essence of truth and beauty for which all education and all civilization earnestly searches, we must—if we would find it—understand its quality. We must know beauty when we see it; we must be able to recognize truth. It is not quite enough to know that two and two equals four. For that reason, we hold that all genuine education should surround youth not only with the apparatus of truth—those arid-seeming propositions which are dull and lifeless because they are not really understood—but also with evidences of truth in an attractive form. It is easier to interest young people in a beautiful object than in an algebraic formula. Yet we have chosen, heretofore, the most difficult way. We have said, "you will never be able to build a house unless you 'can do' trigonometry." We should say, "Unless you appreciate the rightness and reason of a well built house you cannot understand trigonometry." The first method leads through dreariness to a retreating goal. The second method immediately connects the beauty of achievement with the truth of method.

All this may seem mystical and perhaps high-flown, but a few will agree that in rich and happy America, education should mean something finer and nobler than the sound doctrines of the little red school house or the efficiency of the business college.

Worth While Verse

TO MY MOTHER

How fair you are, my mother!
Ah, though 'tis many a year
Since you were here,
Still do I see your beauteous face,
And with the glow
Of your dark eyes cometh a grace
Of long ago.
So gentle, too, my mother!
Just as of old, upon my brow,
Like benedictions now,
Falleth your dear hand's touch;
And still, as then,
A voice that glads me over-much
Cometh again,
My fair and gentle mother!
How you have loved me, mother,
I have not power to tell,
Knowing full well
That even in the rest above
It is your will
To watch and guard me with your love.
Loving me still,
And, as of old, my mother,
I am content to be a child,
My mother's love beguiled
From all these other charms;
So to the last
Within thy dear, protecting arms
Hold thou me fast,
My guardian angel, mother!

Little Benny's Note Book

My cousin Artie stayed at our house for dinner today, being stake under onions and mash potatoes, being my 2nd favorite kind of potatoes, my first favorite kind being mash potatoes with gravy, me saying, Wait for dizzert, ma?

If you had any respect for your digestion you'd try to think about what you're eating, you'll learn that the dizzert is wen Nora brings it in, ma sed.

Which I did, being an apple pie, being my 2nd favorite kind of pie on account of my first favorite kind being apple pie with ice cream on top of it, and after everybody had a slice there was one slice left, and I ate my peeces slow so as not to look as if I was hurry up trying to finish it so I could have the extra peeces but not slow enuff to take longer than wat Artie took to eat his peeces, and ma sed, Well, theress one slice left, who wants it?

Why dont you give it to Artie, he's company, I sed.

Just saying it out of meer politeness, and ma sed, Well now I think that was very gentlemanly of Benny, dont you, Willyum?

Yes, I cant understand it, the pie seemed all rite to me, pop sed, and ma sed, Wat have you got to say, Artie?

Give it to Benny, Im jest as gentlemanly as wat he is Artie sed, and I sed, Like heck you are, you big sap, if you was half as much of a gentleman as wat I am nobody wouldnt hardly recognize you.

O is that so, well Im more of a gentleman in my little finger than you are in your big toe, you ignorant mutt, Artie sed, and pop sed, Lay off, ceese firing for Peets sake Mother, give me that last peeces of pie, he sed.

Which ma did and he ate it with fearese looks at me and Artie.

Winfield Hogaboom, director of publicity of the Panama-California exposition at San Diego, was a Santa Ana visitor.

The Orange County Farmers' Mutual Fire Insurance company elected T. H. Smith, of Tustin, as president. The "Turkey Trot," "Texas Tommy" and the "Grizzly Bear" dances were tabooed by society leaders in Santa Ana as being "coarse, degrading and unrefined."

C. P. Zaner of Columbus, Ohio, considered one of the world's best penmen, visited the grammar schools of the city.

CHRONICLES OF THE LITTLE GRAY HOUSE

Since the Little Gray House doesn't seem to enter into this story at all, perhaps it might more fittingly be called a Chronicle of The Barn, for the occurrence was at that chosen habitat of the Community Players. The whole thing merely goes to show that the comedies and tragedies aren't always enacted upon the stage in full view of the audience. Whether this was a comedy or a tragedy, we haven't yet decided. We'll leave it to you.

You see Edith Cornell of the silver voice, Robert Northcross, Carson Smith and I were to read a one-act play for the edification of the Players, and were behind the scenes (patrons of The Barn will appreciate that phrase in connection with the two by twice stage and its makeshift props) awaiting the rise of the curtain at the close of the business meeting.

Idly surveying the heels of my stockings I remarked "Wouldn't it be a calamity if one's stockings should suddenly spring a leak?" Quite as idly, Edith thrust out one patent leather slipper, silken stockings foot, agreeing that it would be—and graciously heavens there was a hole about three inches above the ankle—a hole as big as a dime and with one of those maddening ladders running from it at two different points!

Of course we laughed like a pair of simpletons, and when Mr. Northcross saw what had happened, he laughed quite as immediately as he searched for dust on the door lintels, to rub over the hole so it wouldn't show. But was hopeless—the more it was fussed with, the bigger the hole grew and finally Edith dismissed it from her mind, and played the serious role of the wife of a murderer with a tremendous hole in her stocking.

SILKEN RUNS

Is there no real way of blocking pesky runners in a stocking? That's a question every girl would like to know. Oftentimes when they first wear 'em, fate just steps right out to tear 'em and a runner's very shortly on the go.

Though they feel a pretty penny for their stockings, there's not any girl who feels she's absolutely safe and sound. For they ne'er can tell what minute, little stairways will be in it just to work their merry way up from the ground.

Ge, it really seems a pity, when they could look neat and pretty, for a pair of hose to open in a run. For the best of friends are parted, when a bloomin' runner's started, as their usefulness to girls is quickly done.

Course it's tough on girls who wear 'em, when the little runners tear 'em, and I offer up my sympathy—but still, there are two sides to the story, and I really feel more sorry for the husband or the dad who pays the bill.

JUST KIDS

Sprightly Mrs. E. tells the tale with a great deal of enjoyment. She was just leaving the house when a small neighbor lad of five sunny years, accosted her in the greatest excitement. "What do you think?" he said, "They threw Daniel right into the den with some lions—and I never knew about it till yesterday!"

Which reminds me of small Betty Jo, demure and attentive, at a recent tea-musical at Ebell clubhouse. As a very beautiful piano solo was being rendered, one of the guests closed her eyes in the enjoyment of the number. And in a very audible tone, Betty Jo asked her nearby grown-up friend "Will you tell me what that lady meant by going to sleep during the music?" Betty Jo's mother was horrified but all the others were much diverted.

ADVENTURES of the TWINS

by OLIVE ROBERTS BARTON

NO. 23—THE NIB NOB'S FIRE ENGINE

In came the man with two noses bearing a large bunch of catnip on a silver platter. It was a good thing that he hadn't forty noses because he already had such a fine opinion of himself that his wig kept slipping backwards, from holding his head so high.

Suddenly the cat smelled the catnip, and with a loud "Mew" he made a jump and knocked the platter out of Mister Nosey's hand.

The catnip fell all over the room and the platter fell with a clatter. At the same time the scissors, which were hidden in one of the everlasting umbrellas, jumped out and fell to the floor, just missing the cat's nose by half an inch.

But in falling they cut off, not one, but seven of the cat's whiskers. Up jumped Ub Glub at once.

"Good for you, Mister Nosey," he cried. "You are as smart as the brave little tailor who killed seven flies with one blow. I couldn't have done better myself. As a reward you shall be promoted to be my chief brass polisher, when I get my new fire engine to ride in."

Nancy and Nick looked at each other and then at Inch O' Pie. And Inch O' Pie looked at Nancy and then at Nick. And then they all looked at each other.

What was the Ub Glub was saying? A new fire engine? He had said that he wanted a new fire engine, but nobody had promised him one.

Poor little Inch O' Pie was thinking, "It's all my fault. I brought the Twins here to this queer place. What if Ub Glub should take a notion to be mean? What if he should press a button and slide his silly old face back into the ground with all of us in it. Oh, dear! What will the Fairy Queen say when she hears of it! Oh dear me!"

But Ub Glub the Nib Nob of Nobody's Land was speaking. He was saying: "There are the seven whiskers, my dears. See! Each one of them has three ends! Seven times three—how's that for luck?"

"Pretty good," said Nick, putting the seven whiskers into his knife pocket.

"I should say so," beamed Ub Glub stroking his beard. Or did he have a beard? Yes—I think he had two. Or maybe he didn't have any. But anyway he beamed and said, "I should say so." Then he added, "Now, where's my fire engine?"

"Why—we you see, we didn't happen to bring one with us," said Nancy.

"What!" cried Ub Glub. "Not bring a fire engine? People always take presents to kings, and they've given them everything but a fire engine! I was sure you would bring one. It was the only thing left. Give me back those magic whiskers!"

"Yes, give them back at once," said Two Noses.

"At once," said the cat, as he stopped rolling in the catnip and arched his back again like a Chinese bridge.

"At once," said the Third Princess, stamping her foot. "If we have a fire engine to pump water all over everything, I can make all the mud-pies I want."

But Nick held onto the whiskers. He never offered to hand them back!

"Oh, ho!" cried Ub Glub. "Then I am not to have my fire engine, am I?" And he started toward the row of buttons in the wall.

"Here's where we all disappear," But something wonderful happened just then.
